HERALDRY:

Heraldry is defined as the art or science of blazoning or describing in appropriate technical terms coats of arms and other heraldic and armorial insignia. The system is of very ancient origin. We can trace it back to the Jewish tribes; and subsequently we find it in a more elaborate form in the leading families of Greece and Rome, who bore distinguishing symbols, illustrative of, or pertaining to, deeds of valor or merit performed by their ancestors.

In its modern sense, however, the heraldic art dates from the time of the Crusades, and was reduced to its present perfect system by the French; and it was not until that period that the crest or cognizance was generally adopted.

The Heraldic description of the above Coat of Arms is written in the ancient language which was created by Heralds in the 12th Century. This is completely understandable to a trained Heraldic artist, regardless of his country of origin, or the language he speaks; therefore your Coat of Arms cannot be described in English if the universal graphic result is to be correctly arrived at.

Historiography

Sperry

Heraldry is a hereditary system of personal recognition developed among the nobles of Medieval Christendom employing symbols upon a shield. The rise of heraldry is generally attributed to its value in distinguishing one man from another during the confusion of battle. The heraldic symbols, or charges, chosen by an individual for his particular Coat of Arms could reflect his heritage, achievements, rank, occupation or personal characteristics.

Individual surnames were originated for the purpose of more specific identification of individuals known previously on a first name basis. Your family Coat of Arms is an artistic interpretation of the Sperry family name based on its linguistic and historical aspects. According to Elsdon C. Smith's Dictionary of American Family Names, the surname Sperry is patronymical in origin and derived from the given name "Sperr", which meant "the spearman". This and other sources place the name originally in Great Britain.

The shield:

"The Sperry family Coat of Arms consists of a lion holding a spear, the image of a good soldier, on a red background, symbolic of military fortitude and valor."

The crest:

"The crest repeats this design."

In the traditional manner of heraldry, the Coat of Arms would be described as:

Arms: "Red; a lion rampant holding a spear, all naturally colored."

Crest: "A lion issuing, holding a spear, all naturally colored."

Information available to us indicates that in 1971 there were approximately 2225 heads of households in the United States with the old and distinguished Sperry name. The United States Census Bureau in 1970 estimated 3.1 persons per household making a total of approximately 6897 people in the United States with the Sperry name.

No genealogical representation is intended or implied by this report and it does not represent individual lineage or your family tree. This Coat of Arms is an artistic interpretation of the Sperry name based on our research.

Sweden's Sparre Became Sperry?

SPERRY — Arms: Azure, a chevron.

Would you like to see Joe out on the wrong end of a limb, saw in hand? Okay, I'm tired of being right all the time, anyhow. (There's one thing you have to say for this guy, he's not modest.)

We'll make this "Educated Guess Day," and if one of you Sperrys can prove me wrong, I'll buy the beer.

The name is not listed in Burke nor Bardsley, although Smith says it is an English name, meaning a descendant of Sperry, a spear. I think that was an easy out. True, the name is found in Connecticut starting in 1644, and slightly later a large parcel of land was claimed and named Sperry's Farms, which is still in existence near New Haven in that state. In the 1700s we find members of the Sperry name in Virginia.

The dates and areas are pertinent to me. I hazard that the original name was Sparre, a Swedish name, which I found listed in the Svensk Adels Kalender. New Sweden, or Delaware as it became later, was founded in 1638 and seized by the British in 1644, the year the Sperry name first appears in Connecticut. I believe they switched colonies when the British took over the old homestead.

Will you buy that? Or how about a used Sperry gyroscope?

THE SPERRYS IN ENGLISH HISTORY --- STAFFORDSHIRE

- 1066 A.D. The Sperry Name in English History goes back to the time of "WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR." Patronumica Britannica quotes this: "Sperry. An Ancient Christian Name. The Domesday Book of Staffordshire has a Sperrri among the Tenants in Chief." --- Page 325 reference (942 D4L) Utah Genealogical Library, Salt Lake City UT. This is further confirmed by Ellis's Domesday Book page 487 volume 1 reference (942 R2e). "Sperrri, Staff. 250b. "Index of Tenants in Capite."
- The spelling of the name Sperry in Staffordshire is closer to its present spelling than was the case in Bedfordshire. This might be because it was better known in Staffordshire; Staffordshire was the Original Home of the Sperrys.
- Before proceeding further, we should say something about the spellings of the name SPERRY. From about the 16th Century and earlier, we should understand that few people outside of the Clergy knew how to spell. These people, as a general rule, spelled a name as they heard it. Accordingly the name is spelled in various and sundry ways. Here are examples of ways in which we have found it spelled: Sperry, Sparry, Sperrye, Sperrri, Spery, Sparri, Spert, Sparre, Sperre, Sparewe, Sperwer, Spewere, Spери, Speari, Speary, Spari, Spary, Spear, Speer, Spier, Spire, Spyeri, Spray, Sporre, Spurri, etc.
- The meaning of the word SPERRY could have been coined from a number of meanings. Spurr, Spurrer --- Nordic Sporr; Nickname, Sparrow; Danish Sporre; German Sporel; Dutch Spoor; Domesday Book Spur or Sperrri --- Spur was a Spurrer's sign, a rider. ---Surname Book and Racial History. "Sparri, Sparre, Sperre, and Spearr meant very likely "Enclosure in a Wood."---page 433 in the Oxford Dictionary of English Place Names by Ekwall, Reference (942 E2c). William De La Sparre, John Atte Sparre meant "Dweller by the Enclosure." Richard Sparrow, Richard Sparrowe, Richard Sperewe, Ralph Sparewe, Ibbota Sparow, James Spearwa meant literally "Flutterer."---page 302-303 Dictionary of Surnames by P.H. Reaney, Reference (B942 D4R). Further, from the Gothic "Sparwa," from the Old High German "Spar", "Sparo," from the Anglo-Saxon "Sparwa," "Speara," from the Old Norse "Spoer." ---from these came the names Sparr, Sparrow, SPERRY, Sperrings, Spur, and Spurway." These are several names taken from the Sparrow, those of small birds, probably originally a surname. ---page 178 "English Names," Reference (942 D4e).

THE SPERRYS IN ENGLISH HISTORY --- BEDFORDSHIRE

- 1200 A.D. The Sperry Family was in Staffordshire since the time of William the Conqueror (1066 A.D.). Apparently, some Sperrys moved from Staffordshire over to Bedfordshire in the late 1100's. According to the Bedfordshire Historical Record Society Volume 10 Page 109 (Reference 942.565 B4b, a certain HUGO SPARWE is mentioned in an agreement between the Prior of Dunstable, Ricardus, and Willelmus Cokin in 1200 A.D. He was a witness to the agreement.
- 1200 A.D. A WELLELM SPERWER is mentioned in a right of way grant between Prioress Jelita and Ralph Morin in Harrold in 1200 A.D. --- Reference "Bedfordshire Historical Record Society Volume 17 Page 25 (942.565 B4b)." In modern day language this name should read William Sperry.
- 1219 A.D. PHILIP SPARRI and ROBERT SPARRI, brothers, appeared in Court and they acknowledged that they had retained nothing of the Right in the land, but they had held it for a term according to the Will of the Prior. This is taken from the Callendar of Fines 10 March 1219 A.D. Church of S S John the Baptist and John the Evangelist of Caudewell --- The land was in Bideham. Reference Volume 6 Page 46 Bedfordshire Historical Record Society (942.565 B4b).
- 1246 A.D. THOMAS LE SPEWERE is mentioned as a defendant in a court case concerning 8 acres of land. This is taken from (Pleas and Assises in the County of Bedford) during the Thirty First Year of the Reign of King Henry, Son of King John --- Before Judge Rde Thurkeleli and his fellows (28 October 1246 to 27 October 1247). Reference Volume 21 Page 51 Article 107 Bedfordshire Historical Record Society.
- 1269 A.D. JOHN SPARWE found the body of Richard, Son of Humphrey of Bozeat. The Son Richard had been hunting in the woods for a lost lamb when Felons assaulted and killed him. The date of the crime was the 24th of October 1264 A.D. This is the story of what took place according to the "Coroners Rolls" Volume 41, Bedfordshire Historical Society Page 49 Article 113, (Reference 942.565 B4b).
- 1270 A.D. WALTER SPARWE, NICHOLAS SPARWE, his son, EMMA SPARWE, his daughter, are all mentioned in a Court Case in the "Coroners Rolls" on the date 4th of August 1270 A.D. They were servants of the LADY OF MEPPERSHALL. Reference Volume 41 Page 24 Article 51 of the Bedfordshire Historical Records Society (Reference 942.565 B4b).
- 1275 A.D. WALTERI SPARUWE, A servant of the LADY OF MEPPERSHALL, came into the Shefford Market. His purse was stolen by Thomas Kek of Oxford. The thief was promptly captured. This event happened on 22 February 1275 A.D. The case came before the Court on the 18th of March 1275 A.D. This is detailed by the Bedfordshire Historical Record Society Volume 41 Page 39 Article 178 (Reference Book 942.565 B4b).

- 1456 A.D. JOHN SPERRY is listed as the MAYOR OF BEDFORD during the years (1) 1456 A.D., (2) 1457 A.D., and (3) 1462 A.D. This information comes from Reference Book (942.565 D2b) Volume 2 Page 240 "Bedfordshire Notes and Queries," edited in 1889.
- 1463 A.D. MARY DE BEDFORD, DAME DE LA SPARRE, is mentioned in the "Calendar of Close Rolls" during the Reign of Edward IV (1461 A.D. to 1468 A.D.). The date given is March 30, 1463. Reference Book (942 R2p volume 1).

The Parishes in England began keeping Birth, Marriage, and Death Statistics in 1538 A.D. The present history of the Sperry Family as we know it in the United States begins with JOHN SPERRY born in the THURLEIGH PARISH of Bedfordshire, England, about 1540 A.D. He married Agnes Rawlins 19 May 1562 at the Thurleigh Parish. This JOHN SPERRY was the Grandfather of the RICHARD SPERRY who migrated to New Haven CT in 1638 A.D. and was the original ancestor of the most of the Sperrys in the United States (Direct Line).

OUR FIRST AMERICAN ANCESTOR --- A HERO IN PRE-REVOLUTIONARY WAR TIMES

Richard Sperry, the founder of the Sperry Family in America, was a native of England according to family tradition. He came to the New Haven CT Colony as early as 1634. He was at that time, according to report, acting as an Agent for the EARL OF WARWICK. (The author, searching in old English records during June 1971, found the families of Richard's father and grandfather in the Thurlleigh Parish of Bedfordshire, England.)

As recorded in Stile's History, "Richard Sperry resided in the second house between Mills Creek and Hudson's River. He is particularly deserving a place in history reflecting from the fact that it was he who afforded protection for a considerable period of time to the "Regicide Judges --- Whalley, Goffe, and Dixwell." The story runs like this:

On the restoration of the Stuart Dynasty to the British Throne in 1660, a General Amnesty was proclaimed by CHARLES II, the new King; however the members of the Cromwellian Court who had condemned his Father CHARLES I were not included in this Amnesty. Revenge must have its day.

Of the 59 men who had signed the death warrant of the Tyrant King, only 35 were still alive and still residing in England in the year 1660. Immediately on the new King's order, 27 of the unsuspecting victims were arrested. Nine of them were forthwith beheaded. The more cautious others, hearing of this murderous vindictive action, fled in terror from England and went into hiding. Of these, three prominent ones, Major-General Edward Whalley, Major-General William Goffe, and Colonel John Dixwell, somehow secretly got aboard a ship and fled to the New Haven Colony in North America. There they were well-received by a known sympathizer, Richard Sperry, an Anti-Royalist and a Great Christian. He secreted them on his farm at West Rock in a cave now known as the "Judge's Cave."

The children of Richard Sperry carried food to them. They left it at a certain designated place in the nearby forest. At night the hunted men would come out of the cave and secure it. Until the pursuit lost its steam and gradually died out with time, they were kept safely there, even though large rewards were offered for their capture. The house of Richard Sperry was constantly under surveillance. It was twice thoroughly searched by the "Red Coat Police" with this interest in mind. Capture meant certain death to both Whalley and Goffe and punishment of some sort to Richard Sperry and John Dixwell. The two men named were special objects of the King's vengeance in consequence of the prominent part these men took in the governing affairs of the "Oliver Cromwell Protectorate," an assemblage or council which governed England and its Colonies from 1653 to 1659.

The three Fugitives were not really safe until 1688 when the Stuart Dynasty was succeeded by the House of Orange in England. It is abundantly obvious here that these three refugees did not stay in this cave until 1688. It is most likely that they remained there until the heat was off. Then quietly and possibly under assumed names they lost themselves in the bustling activity and new life of the Colonies. The point is this: members of the most prominent families and the best blood of England came to the New World for many, various, and sundry reasons. These three men are outstanding examples of this particular point.

In the New Haven Colony Richard Sperry, Governor Stephen Goodyear's farmer, took a prominent part. He was granted a large tract of land, still known as Sperry's Farms in what is now the town of Woodbridge CT. He was given Full Colony Fellowship as a freeman in the year 1644. Members of his family were active in the Colony's affairs and they married and intermixed with some of the finest families in both the "Old and New World." They were part and parcel of a new governmental philosophy and culture which was emerging there.

PIONEER JOURNAL OF HARRISON SPERRY
(1847 Pioneer to Utah)

(This is a copy of the original Journal of Harrison Sperry---1847 Pioneer to Utah. It was made by his grandson Harrison Spencer Sperry on the 30th of November 1946. The original script was held by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Sperry Stout. Some arranging, spelling corrections, and dictation were made by Harrison Spencer Sperry.)

This is a short history of the life of Harrison Sperry (1847 Pioneer to Utah), written with his own hand and commencing on the 17th day of January 1907. My father's name was Joy Sperry. My mother's name was Mary Lamont Sperry. I was born on the 24th of March 1832 in the small town of Mecca, Trumbull County, Ohio. My father and mother were residents of that section for some time, going there when it was sparsely settled. My father built a sawmill there. I don't remember much about that part of the country as I was very young, being only four years old when my father's family moved, taking their abode in La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois. He was one of the first to build a home in the town of La Harpe. The country was new and a somewhat wild type of land at that time. I well remember when I was out a little way from the house playing in the tall grass. A herd of deer came bumping along and leaped over my head. This was about in the year 1837.

It wasn't long after the above incident when Mormon Elders came into our community. My father went to their meetings to hear them. He embraced their faith and joined them. I used to go with my father to many of their meetings. Very frequently they would speak in tongues. I became very interested in Mormonism and told my father that I wished to be baptized. It was not long after this when the Mormon Elders announced that there was going to be a baptismal day in a small stream not far away. I, along with a great many others, including my sister Sarah, was baptized by one Samuel Gurley. We were confirmed by Samuel and others at the water's edge. This was in the fall of 1841. The next March I would have been ten years old.

Shortly after my baptism mobs gathered and commenced to threaten the people and make trouble throughout the whole of Hancock County, Illinois. My father was among those warned to leave the county. I remember very well an incident down on the creek bottoms while we were hunting cows that had strayed out that evening. I looked across the creek. A horseman was coming toward us. He proved to be one of our townsmen by the name of Post. He informed us he had been to a meeting that evening. He had been picked by these people to cover a certain district. He said that it was his responsibility to warn the Mormons in his district to leave the county. I remember how my father reacted. He straightened up and commenced to talk in serious tones to Mr. Post. He said, "I and my family have been some of the first settlers in La Harpe. We have tried at all times to be good citizens. I have four boys and myself. We all have guns and ammunition. If you come after us, I can guarantee, we will make it mighty warm for you." They never came after us.

The mobs became increasingly more threatening. They marched up and down the county, mostly at night, trying to burn down Mormon property, stacks, and houses. Most of the Mormons were on the lookout for them. They had to remain continually on guard night and day to keep the mobs from doing violence and burning houses. These insensible mobs were determined to drive the Mormons out of the country. Finally they trumped up a charge against the Mormon Prophet, Joseph Smith. He and his brother, Hyrum Smith, were arrested. They surrendered to the authorities at Carthage, who placed them in prison there. They had been promised a fair trial, but on the 27th of June 1844, the Carthage Grays, a band of blackened-faced ruffians, advanced on the jail with guns and brutally murdered the Prophet and his brother Hyrum. Later, these same mobs, not being completely satisfied with the killing of the Prophet and his brother, tried a raid upon Nauvoo with about 3000 men. A real battle ensued resulting in the death of some Mormons and also some of the mob. Finally, in order to avoid further bloodshed, a treaty was made. The Mormon community was forced to agree to leave the country.

After the death of the Prophet, Brigham Young, being the President of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles of the Church, was chosen to lead the people. Brigham Young's words were: "To your tents O' Israel." Preparations for leaving were going on during the Winter of 1845 and all through 1846. Wagons were made; teams were bartered and traded for; homes were sold; and improvements were sold for as much as they could get for them. However a great many had to leave their homes and furniture unsold. Very early in the Spring of 1846 the Great Exodus began.

Some of the more faithful had crossed the Mississippi River by Ferry Boat before February 1846. However, a very cold spell of weather came in the month of February. The Mississippi River ice froze solid. A great many of the Saints were thus enabled to cross the river on the ice. They remained on the Iowa side of the Mississippi in their wagons and tents. Inasmuch as the weather was very cold and disagreeable, these fine people underwent untold suffering and hardships right in sight of their old homes.

About this time, a great miracle took place. The Good Lord sent large flocks of quail to these cold, hungry, and destitute followers, so much so that they were enabled to gather up all they wanted. They killed them with sticks.

During the Spring of 1846, as the weather got warmer, the Great Exodus feeling was so noticeable. In the spirit of the times, my father sold our home, in reality he rather gave it away. The house in the values of the time was worth two or three thousand dollars, but father got only a span of horses and a harness for it. Undiscouraged as a family, we loaded up our effects; and in the Spring of 1846 we started for the West. Our family party consisted of my father Joy Sperry; my mother Mary Lamont Sperry; two sisters, Betsey and Sarah; four brothers, William, Aaron, Charles, and Harrison. We also had a little niece called Josephine. We left La Harpe and its memories and went down to the Mississippi River. Here we placed my sister Sarah on a Northbound Mississippi Steamboat. She traveled up the river to a town called Oquaque, Iowa. There her lover, Mr. Asa Abbott, met her and they were married. She never saw her father or her mother again.

The remainder of our family crossed the Mississippi River and began our march westward, not even knowing where we were going. It was an act of faith. The roads were extremely muddy, and we had storms almost every day. We continued west through Iowa until we were upon the Grand River. There the Saints had fashioned a resting place. It was named Mount Pisgah. My father pushed on to the bottoms of the Grand River, felled trees, cleared away the brush, plowed, and put in a little garden. We also built a shanty-like house for the family. Everything was of a temporary nature, but in this condition we remained most of the Summer.

It was while the Mormon People were traveling in their wagons, tenting, and in a rather helpless condition that the United States Government---who, incidentally, had not helped anyone in the Illinois troubles---came along and called for five hundred of our very best young men. There was a war going on with Mexico at the time, and these agents of the Government wanted these five hundred to help fight these battles for them. It seemed like a brazen demand at the time to us---where was the government when we needed them. Brigham Young and the Twelve Apostles had gone ahead of the camps as far as Council Bluffs on the Missouri River to establish resting places for the Saints when this call was made upon them. I well remember seeing Brigham Young and some of the Twelve coming back to Mt. Pisgah, and other camps, calling for volunteers. Brigham spoke to the assembled people saying, "We must raise this battalion even if we have to take some women. Our intolerant enemies have told tales in Washington that we are rebelling against the Government. They are trying to create a trumped-up excuse to come upon us in our unprotected situation and kill us all off." The Battalion was raised in less than three weeks and was soon on the march.

It was while we were still at Mt. Pisgah that my brothers, William, Aaron, and Charles, took our horse team back to Bonepart, Iowa, on the Des Moines River to work in the harvest and get more provisions to take with us on the journey west. While they were away our mother took sick. We were living in a little shanty built from the trees we had felled. We had covered it with bark. We built it at the same time we prepared the garden. My father called to me one day. "Harrison," he said, "I wish you would go over to Brother Mansfield's. Tell him to come over because I believe mother is dying." Brother Mansfield lived up the river about twenty rods or more. It was a trail through the brush and very dark. When I got there I asked him to come. He replied feebly, "I cannot because we are all sick too." When I got back mother was just breathing her last breath. Shortly after mother was buried at Mt. Pisgah, Aaron and Charles returned. William had gone back to La Harpe to attend to some of our business. He joined us again at Hyland Grove. About this time some of our La Harpe friends came along. They had heard that we were sick and in trouble. As good friends they came to our camp and offered to assist us. We gladly accepted their offer, gathered up our teams, put our goods in the wagons, and went on west with them, finally stopping at a place near Council Bluffs, Iowa, called Hyland Grove. It was there we made our Winter Quarters.

A group of the Saints had reached Hyland Grove before us. In anticipation of Winter they had built some rude log houses. Among these fine people was a good friend by the name of Behormon. He had built a double log house. Even though he had a large family, he proffered to let us come in and live with him until we could build. We will never forget his unselfish kindness. It was while we were living in Behormon's house during the early Winter of 1846, the whole family came down sick with the "durned" Ague (A fever similar to Malaria marked by chills, fever, and sweating at regular intervals). In addition to this, my brother Aaron developed blackleg (Scurvy). It was caused by not having enough green vegetables to eat. Great sores appeared on his legs and the tops of his feet/ Maggots were often in his sores. Aaron died in the month of December 1846. He was buried in the grove nearby.

Brother Behormon and his boys were graciously building a house for us because we were all so sick. It was near and we moved into it right after my brother died. My father wasn't able to rally like the rest of us and continued very sick. We had no medicines. We had nothing with which to help him. On New Year's day in 1847, my father died. He was 62 years old. We buried him by the side of my brother Aaron. There is no gravestone at Hyland Grove to show where they lay. Hyland Grove is about seven miles east of Winter Quarters (Florence, Nebraska), or just across the Missouri River from the present Omaha, Nebraska.

Before our father died, he called his whole family around his bedside. He requested us to follow the heads of the Church, who were moving West. This we unanimously agreed to do. Accordingly, during the Spring of 1847, after the grass had grown sufficiently for travel, we hitched up our teams, loaded in our goods and our outfit. We were moving out West. We soon reached the Missouri River, ferried our wagons across, swam our teams to the other shore, and continued toward the Elkhorn River. The Elkhorn was a stream about twenty miles to the West. Along this stream, a gathering place was set apart for the Saints to become organized, preparatory for their long Trek across the Great American Plains.

On the same day we were moving to the Elkhorn Stream, a family ahead of us had some trouble with an Indian and his boy. Somehow they got into a fight. The white man got the Indian down. Then the Indian hollered for help to his boy. The Indian boy shot two arrows into the white man. Then the two Indians ran away. The white man's family picked him up the best they could and continued on to camp. However that night the wounded man died, groaning and suffering in great pain.

The night after we arrived at the Elkhorn, I put my hook into the stream baited with a small frog. Surprisingly I caught a large catfish. I had problems pulling the monster out of the stream. The next day we were organized into a company. We were now ready to start on our long journey. We had two wagons with two yokes of oxen, one yoke each to a wagon. The company was organized with a captain over 10 wagons, a higher captain over 50 wagons, and a head captain over 100 wagons. As soon as there were sufficient wagons to make a company of a hundred wagons, they were organized and permitted to move out. On account of the Indian danger, it was thought to be unsafe to travel with less than that number.

It was common knowledge that there was a thousand or so miles to travel before us. It was also through wild Indian country. There were wild beasts of all varieties there too. Our rate of travel varied from about ten to twenty miles a day. On Sundays the Sabbath was observed. We would lay by and hold meetings. Sometimes a half day on Saturdays was set aside, to let the women get their washing done. At times our travel was governed by the amount of feed available for the animals and the distance to water holes. As a general rule, the food available to the animals was very good. We were short of wood at times and had to resort to buffalo chips (droppings or the manure of the buffalo) for our fires. Buffalo chips made good fires when they were dry.

Once camp was organized at night, you would see everyone out gathering chips and bringing water in. With the camp fires started, you knew that supper was being cooked. After supper the herds were looked after. Each night four or five men were detailed to the herd, to take them out to feed, to guard them, to make sure that the Indians didn't sneak them away. This guard group would stay with them all night, then bring them in early in the morning. About nine o'clock at night, camp fires were put out. All the camp went to bed. Sometimes when Indian danger was thought to be great, the herd was brought into the corral, formed of our wagons driven in an oval shape, fifty wagons on each side, wheels chained together, and a wagon drawn across each entrance. Guards were placed all around the camp.

One day while our company was traveling west along the north shore of the Platt River, a large band of Indians approached our camp. They wanted to buy whiskey, sugar, and a white squaw. Unfortunately, we were just out of white squaws and whiskey for sale. However, we did trade them some sugar and flour. We got buffalo skins in return. Finally they went off peaceably. Another morning as we were about to continue the trek, we looked off to the bluffs. Thousands of buffalo were coming straight for our camp. They were on the way to the Platte River for water. It was immediately apparent that we had to send out men with guns. They had to fire their rifles in order to turn the herd from overrunning our camp. This also prevented them from stampeding our ox teams, all hitched to our wagons. We were detained almost a half day while this big herd passed. After the buffalo went down to the river and drank, some returned in the direction from whence they came. Others swam over the river and disappeared. After the danger had passed, we drove on. Buffalo were so numerous all along the plains, we could go out and kill one almost any time we wished.

Another time when the train was moving west in full tranquility, suddenly the whole picture changed. Everyone of us found ourselves in a wild stampede. The cause of it was the hind team. They got lazy and loitered behind. In order to close the distance, the teamster had overdone the use of his whip. They caught up with the team ahead of them and ran by them. That action scared the team ahead. Similarly it went through the whole camp until the entire train was running recklessly ahead. A considerable number of women and children were walking. When they saw the teams and wagons all running away, they got scared. They ran after us howling and in tears. Everything was in an uproar. With a great effort and considerable confusion we finally got the teams stopped. Order was restored. Luckily no one was hurt. With much greater experience and caution we continued our journey west.

Another time when Indian danger was high, we camped and corralled our animals. It was decided to take the cattle out to feed. About dark they were brought in again. After supper and prayer were over, everything became quiet. We had retired to rest. One of the steers came up to one of the wagons and probably jiggled it a little. This angered one of the sleepers in the wagon. He got up and in righteous anger threw a buffalo robe on the critter's head. That action frightened the animal. He started to run. Others joined in. Soon the whole herd was running around the corral in fright. Finally the herd broke out of the corral, smashing the wagon placed across the opening. The whole herd went out, taking the back track, and running for several miles before they could be stopped. You can bet the whole camp was aroused. Men on horseback started after the animals, and it was almost daylight when they brought them back. Every tragedy has its humorous moments---for after the herd had passed over the wagon at the opening of the corral, mashing it down, a young lady crawled out from under the debris and innocently asked what was the uproar. It was miraculous that this young lady was not trampled to death. She was none other than Miss Ann Smith. She made the trip to Salt Lake Valley, becoming the wife of Thomas Jenkins who became the second Bishop of Fourth Ward. Next morning the teams were hitched up as usual. We continued our journey.

Thus traveling west, day after day, we eventually came in sight of the mountains. They loomed up a hundred miles ahead of us. The tops of the mountains were so high that they were capped with snow. It seemed an intolerably long time before we reached these big Rocky Mountains. Storms began with our reaching the mountains. It was very cold and disagreeable at times---snow falling in places several inches in depth.

Before leaving the Plains, I must tell you of our meeting the Brigham Young party. They were returning to Winter Quarters to bring back their families. They had been to the Salt Lake Valley. They had located our future homes. Their company had left Winter Quarters very early in the Spring to pioneer the way. Three hundred and forty had reached the Valley of the Great Salt Lake on the 24th of July 1847. They had even staked out the place where Brigham Young had put down his cane and said, "Here the Temple of our God will be erected." Brigham Young and his returning party camped with us that night. We were excited and had a grand time that night. They told us all about the country they had found. We retired late.

In the excitement of Brigham's presence, we had only staked a few of our horses to make them secure. Indians raided us that night and drove off all the pioneer's horses. Early in the morning the loss was discovered. Porter Rockwell was with this pioneer company. Brigham asked Porter, "What shall we do?" Porter replied, "I'll get them. We'll get the horses." Porter Rockwell collected the few horses staked out and with a few men started on their trail. They were gone all day. Toward evening we saw dust arising in the distance. Shortly Porter and the men rode up with the entire band of stolen horses. Porter said, "I told you I would get them." His group had followed the horses' trail some 20 or 30 miles before overtaking the abductors. When the Indians saw them coming, they left the horses and scampered off.

(This 15-year-old boy wasn't impressed too much with the Mountains, Fort Laramie, Old South Pass, and Fort Bridger, mainly because of the cold, miserable weather. For this reason, he jumps rapidly to Big Mountain---just east of the Salt Lake Valley.)

We traveled through the mountains for a long time and finally came upon Big Mountain. Here we got a sight of our promised valley and the Great Salt Lake. It looked scenic to see such a large open basin. However, at the speed we were moving, it took another day or two of mountain travel down through the canyons before we reached the valley. Our company, under the leadership of Jedediah M. Grant, emerged into the Salt Lake Valley on or about the seventeenth of October 1847. It was late in the year, and the next most important thing to do was to prepare for Winter.

Our little orphaned family of five souls reached our destination with two wagons, four oxen, two or three cows, and a tolerable good outfit. We settled near the southeast corner of the Old South Fort. This is located approximately on Second West and Sixth South streets in the Sixth Ward of present Salt Lake City, Utah (1907). Our first duty was to make adobes. They were large adobes, being about 18 inches long and 10 inches wide. Our houses, when finished, were purposely joined together for protection from the Indians and the weather. Each family was allowed as much space as they required. All of the houses were about 9 or 10 feet high. The roofs were first overlaid with poles, then overspread with grass or hay, then the whole roof was covered with earth or dirt. This made it quite comfortable. Our floor was the bare ground, or perhaps a wagon cover spread over it.

Our houses built adjoining each other formed a Fort. Each Fort contained 10 acres of ground. Our particular fort was the South Fort. Another fort was north of us. The original fort that the 24th of July Pioneers built is now known as Pioneer Square or Pioneer Park. Another fort was north of it called the North Fort. Altogether there were four such forts containing forty acres and housing some three thousand souls that first Winter.

Surprisingly, the first Winter was very mild. One could work in his shirt sleeves, there being very few cold spells. Our stock lived out in the cane brakes in the near countryside which kept them in very good condition. Some of the younger stock even got fat. We butchered some of our stock for food. Everyone enjoyed themselves very much that first Winter. We were all well acquainted and very sociable. We entertained ourselves with frequent social gatherings and dancing. There was not very much suffering the first Winter. Everyone had pretty much what they needed in the way of necessities. Each family had provided themselves and were outfitted for a year at least.

I must tell you more about our homes in the fort. Our adobes were very large. We layed them right upon the ground without any foundation of rock. During the next Spring (1848) when storms and rain came, the houses began to leak. The ground became soft. Once the bottom layers were affected, the front of our house all fell out. What a mess we were in. Our bed clothes became wet. We were all soaked through. However the sun came out again after a spell. We dried out our clothes and bedding. And we prepared ourselves mentally and spiritually for other surprizes.

With Spring, everyone busied themselves with plowing and planting. Unfortunately, we had but a scanty amount of seeds to plant. Of necessity, we knew our crops would be rather slim. For several years we had pretty hard scratching to get by. When our provisions were exhausted and our crops short, we resorted to digging roots and hunting wild game to sustain our lives. We ate Sego and Thistle roots. We found Sego Roots on the benchlands and Thistle Roots in the river bottoms. The Thistle Roots were very large and tender, some as long as your foot and as tender as a carrot. You cannot find any like them now. The Good Lord anticipated and prepared them for his poor, suffering, and exiled Saints.

Come Fall of 1848, my brother Charles, Daniel Miller (who later became our brother-in-law), and I took a combined herd of the people's stock south to the Cottonwoods. This is near to what is now called Sandy in the valley. It was at that time a rather wild area. One night after supper, we were leisurely sitting around a big fire in front of our rude shanty. About 8 or 9 o'clock in the evening, I should guess, we suddenly heard a guncap burst close to us. The sound came from just across the creek. It was not more than two rods away. We concluded in quick unanimity that Indians were in the near vicinity and acted accordingly.

I instinctively grabbed a near pail of water and dashed the fire. We quickly gathered our guns, crawled into our shanty, and laid low and quiet. An expected attack never came. We didn't even hear the crack of a bush. Frightened, we lay there most of the night. Come next morning we cautiously went out and explored the situation. The Indians had apparently crawled back noiselessly. When we went out to where we had left the stock, low and behold not a hoof was to be seen. The Indians had driven off the entire herd. We returned immediately to the fort and gave the alarm. A pursuing company was raised as fast as possible. They followed the thieving redskins, overtaking them at Battle Creek, which is now called Pleasant Grove in Utah County. A battle ensued. Several Indians were killed and our stock was retaken. The stock was driven back, but this experience was enough to discontinue our herding. One can surmise that if the gun had really gone off, I would, perhaps, not have had the privilege of writing this short history.

I must tell you of a scrap I had with a Sandhill Crane. I was hunting when I observed a flock of cranes landing in some cane brakes. I was determined to get a shot at them. I knew these birds were very shy, so I crept into the cane brakes cautiously until I could see them feeding in an open place about two hundred yards away. I leveled my gun and fired at the largest one. It proved to be the old gander. With the crack of the gun they all flew but one. I had broken the wing of the largest one. A chase commenced across the swamp country and toward the Jordan River for about a mile and a half. I finally overtook the big old bird. Cornered, he turned to fight me with his large head up. He commenced to dance around me and I around him. Finally I got another shot at him. When his head dropped for a moment, I grabbed his neck. A real battle began, such kicking and scratching you have never seen in all your born days. At last I kinked his neck and it was all over. He was a monster, weighing about 30 pounds. I put his legs over my shoulders and headed for home. As I neared home, folks were puzzled as to what was approaching. I apparently looked like a big cluster of feathers. This big bird served as the basis for several meals.

The toughest meal in my memory was an old hawk. Hunting all day, I hadn't come across any greens or game. Coming home I spied an old hawk perched upon an old stake. I approached cautiously, fired, and down he came. I took him home. My sister, in utter disappointment, looked at me and said, "Harrison, is this all that you could get?" I nodded and so we prepared him for the boiling pot. Supper time arrived. My sister Betsey attempted to take him out of the pot. He was so tough she could hardly stick the fork into him. So we boiled him, and boiled him, and boiled him for the greater part of the night. Come next morning we were so hungry that with the struggling exertion, we tried to make a meal of him. In all my born days I can't remember anything so tough.

When Salt Lake City was being surveyed, I was considered too young to draw a lot. However Charles and William, my two brothers, each drew a lot. The populace began to move out and build on their city lots. I enjoyed browsing about and watching the surveyors at work. Even after the farming land was laid out, I was still too young, so they thought, to draw any farming land. However, with a little finagling on my part, I did finally manage to draw a five acre lot. It was an enclosed large field, next to other five acre lots. The ten acre lots were then laid out or surveyed, and after these the twenty acre lots. The Saints then began farming in earnest. Building continued at an accelerated pace on city lots. One dollar and a half was the price of a city lot at that time. This was just enough to pay for the surveying and recording. Previously I have said that I was too young to draw for city lots, but after awhile I did get my chance at a city lot by paying the sum of thirty dollars. This city lot was within a stone's throw of where our family had set our wagons in 1847. This lot served my family for over fifty years. An afterthought---my brother Charles married Emily Miller. This was the second marriage performed in the valley. I lived with them for a time in their new home.

About this time the Indians began to be a problem, especially in the outside settlements. This was because emigrant Saints continued at a good pace to come to Utah. People wanted more room. Towns and villages began to spring up all through the territory. The Indians in the area began to threaten the people at Provo, Utah. They killed and stole cattle, shot and wounded several people, and in general made themselves a feared enough nuisance. Luckily, a United States Army Officer was in Salt Lake. He enlisted a company to track down and chastize these Indians. I was quite young, but I enlisted and began to shoulder a gun. We took whatever transportation was available and headed south.

It was Winter. The snow was rather deep. We came upon the Indians along the Provo River. They had fortified themselves in the brush by felling large cottonwood trees. Apparently they thought they were pretty secure. We fought them every day for about two weeks before routing them. We would go out every day and at night return to the Provo Fort. I was among the bush whackers. Our group would cross over the Provo River and approach their defense from the North. We crawled through the brush and snow often up to our waists. We shot whenever we could see an Indian's head. Three others and I crawled to within four or five rods of their stronghold. We could even hear them talk. They got sight of us and a bullet whizzed past us. A man named Miles was shot through both thighs right by my side. We dragged him back out of reach of their fire. We then took him back to the Fort. He later recovered. It was only a flesh wound.

Our forces attacking from the South would pour shot and shells into the Indian Stronghold. These Indians managed to wound and kill a few of our men with their fire. So it wasn't all one-sided. One morning, we routinely went back to take up our positions. On approaching their bastion we found out the Indians had all left during the night. They had started for the mountains, thinking they could reach the territory of another tribe called the Shoshones, who lived near Bridger Country. However, the most of them had contracted the measles. On going out in the cold, many of them died before they could reach the mountains. Our forces followed them. The greater part of the remaining Indians were captured and made prisoners. We then returned to Provo. Later on the whole group of Indians were taken to Salt Lake City. Many of their orphaned children were distributed among white families there and were raised as members of their own families. From my contact with these primitive Lamanites, I contracted the measles, too. I had a rather bad case. It darned near did me in. I drew a land warrant for my services, and I began rather naively to think that I was quite a man.

Shortly thereafter I became acquainted with a mighty pretty young lady by the name of Mary Mosley. I courted her persistently, and she agreed to become my wife. I soon rustled up a house. We were married on the 27th of October 1852. We lived happily together until her death on the 25th of August 1859. She bore me three children, but two had died before their mother. Mary Ann Sperry, her surviving daughter, was only six years old at her mother's death. Sadly enough, she too died when she was only seventeen years old.

After Mary's death I was a widower until February 17, 1861, when I married her sister, Susan Mosely. She bore me ten children. She died on the 12th of July 1905, leaving eight surviving children. Two of her children had preceded her in death.

I was married a third time on the 15th of December 1873 in Polygamy to Ellen Mary Butterworth. She has born me nine children of which four are still living. Five of her children have passed away.

I will now give the names of my children, when they were born, and when they died:

Mary Mosley Sperry's children were: (1) Mary Ann, born August 16, 1853; died May 12, 1870. (2) Henry Harrison, born March 20, 1856; died November 30, 1858. (3) Hannah Elizabeth, born October 9, 1858; died December 5, 1858.

Susan Mosley Sperry's children were: (1) George Henry, born April 24, 1862. (2) Charles Aaron, born September 9, 1864. (3) William Arthur, born March 24, 1867. (4) Harrison Jr., born September 21, 1869. (5) Minnie Eddy, born November 18, 1867. (6) Mary, born May 29, 1874; died December 20, 1885. (7) Erma Rowena, born October 8, 1876. (8) Byron, born December 18, 1878. (9) Walter, born August 27, 1882; died December 9, 1883. (10) Ralph Beardmore, born September 3, 1888.

Ellen Mary Butterworth Sperry's children were: (1) William Oliver, born October 1, 1874. (2) Elizabeth Jane, born August 18, 1876. (3) Milton, born December 29, 1879; died March 15, 1882. (4) Mary Ellen, born July 10, 1881; died about April 31 (sic), 1882. (5) Carl, born April 13, 1883; died August 10, 1884. (6) Hurrell, born April 13, 1883; he died August 8, 1884. The last two were twins; they both are buried in one grave. (7) Naomi, born June 2, 1885. (8) Edmond, born September 2, 1887. (9) Melba Butterworth, born April 22, 1898; died March 20, 1905.

These are all my children --- 22 in all, 12 living, 10 dead. This is 1907, and I will be 75 years old on the 24th of next March. The present date is January 26, 1907.

Old Father Brown was the first Bishop to preside over Fourth Ward in Salt Lake City, Utah. He had a variety of counselors during the years --- John Preece was one, John Wakely was another, William Edwards was still another. One by one they were let out by death or removal. Eventually I was chosen his second counselor. I served in that position for 5 years. Bishop Brown was getting old, so he resigned gracefully his responsibility. Thomas Jenkins was then chosen to be Bishop. He chose me for his first counselor. I remained his first counselor for 10 years. When Thomas Jenkins resigned, President Brigham Young picked me to take charge of Fourth Ward's affairs. I was ordained Bishop on the 20th day of May 1875. I acted as Bishop of Fourth Ward until March 25, 1906. I had been Bishop for some 31 years. When released, I was ordained a Patriarch under the authoritative hands of Lorenzo Snow and Bishop Hunter. Altogether I had served in the bishopric as counselor and as Bishop some 46 years.

THE JOHNSTON'S ARMY INCIDENT. The Saints were celebrating Pioneer Day on the 24th of July 1857 at Brighton's Lake in Big Cottonwood Canyon. We had been here just ten years. I had heard many times the President of the Church, Brigham Young, say in his public utterances that if the mobs would let us alone for about 10 years, he would ask no more odds of them. Strange to say, just ten years from the time we arrived in Salt Lake Valley and while we were celebrating the 24th in the canyon, word came to us that a United States Army was marching against us. Porter Rockwell and a few others had been back in the States watching the progress of movements there. The mobbers who had done so much mischief in Illinois were still not satisfied with killing our Prophet and the driving of us from our homes, and the ultimate cause of some 5000 or 6000 souls losing their lives on the Great Trek across the Plains. They continued to carry various and sundry lies and falsehoods to the National Capitol at Washington D.C., inflaming tempers and hatreds. The result was that Porter Rockwell brought us word that there was a government-backed army on the road against us. They were equipped with ropes and bloodhounds to hunt down and hang Brigham Young and the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Their main objective was to break up "Mormonism."

I remember well Brigham calling the whole celebrating camp together. He told us what he had heard. His speech to us fairly made the whole mountains tremble. He said, "They can't come in. We won't let them. We will go home, raise a standing army, and go out and meet them." The next day, after a grand time of dancing, boating, fishing, and trampling in the mountains, we pulled up stakes and returned home. As soon as possible an army was raised. Lot Smith, a canny strategist, was put in charge. President Young gave Lot Smith some instructions. He said, "Go out and stop that army, but don't spill a drop of blood." (Unless the Lord was with them, what a ridiculous instruction to an army whose success meant their very lives and everything they held dear and of worth.)

Lot Smith's small detachment of men proceeded eastward until they were near the advanced guards of the United States Army. Then they turned off the beaten path into the passes and mountains, evading the main part of this advancing armed force, but continuing their quest until they came upon the Army's Supply Trains. Here they applied some good plans. With unbelievable strategy, they surprised the whole supply train and captured the whole unit, horses, wagons, supplies: lock, stock, and barrel. Then Lot Smith gave the army's teamsters some instructions, "Take enough supplies in flour, sugar, blankets, and necessities for this unit to get back to the Mississippi River; put them in one wagon and take off, for we are going to burn up this whole train of wagons." (It is ironical that a well known personage, Buffalo Bill Cody, was a member of this unit. He, along with the other members of this unit, had to walk a thousand miles back to the Mississippi River.) With the wagons and supplies of the United States Army burned and destroyed, Lot Smith's men herded up the animals accompanying this military unit and started home, driving them before them. They brought the animals and such supplies as they thought necessary to the Salt Lake Valley in a round-about way, moving through a different set of canyons and gorges.

My memory serves me well on our meeting up with Lot Smith's herd in Emigration Canyon east of Salt Lake. I was with a large company of volunteers on their way to Echo Canyon to confront Johnston's Army. We were allowed to kill all of the oxen we could use. The remainder were brought down into the Salt Lake Valley, turned over to the Church, then taken over to Church Island in Great Salt Lake. (This island is now called Buffalo or Antelope Island.) They were kept there all Winter. Johnston's advancing force came only as far as Ham's Fork. There they went into Winter Quarters. Supplyless they had no other recourse than to remain there in an inconvenient place, cold, miserable, and hungry all Winter. We found out later that they had to resort to eating mule meat without any salt. President Young heard of their plight. He sent them some salt. Unrepentant, they rejected his Christian offer, because they would not have anything from "Mormons."

Our volunteer soldier group remained in Echo Canyon until the Winter storms had set in. We satisfied ourselves that the troops were settled for the Winter. The Mormon forces were then called home. We left a few well-concealed observers to keep tabs on the troupe movements. That Winter the Authorities of the Church asked for a great reformation. We were called upon to repent of our weaknesses, our shortcomings, and our sins, so that the Lord would be more inclined to come to our aide. In the Spring, Salt Lake City was abandoned by the populace. Everyone moved South, including even the Mormon settlements north of Salt Lake City. Most Saints moved to Utah County and farther south. We still wanted to remain together as much as possible. We knew we could protect ourselves much better that way. There wasn't much confidence in the intentions of Johnston's Army.

If we really had to leave Salt Lake Valley, we were prepared to burn every house, cut down every tree, and leave the whole country as bare and desolate as it was when we first arrived there. Fortunately, the United States Government found out before it was too late that they had made a great mistake. The story was this: Some Government Judges had gone back to Washington, D.C. from here. They reported that the Mormons had driven them from the bench, turned them out, and had burned all the court records. Officialdom in Washington, D.C. had been taken in by their stories; hence they had sent out the army to investigate. The cooler heads of the government finally sent Colonel Kane by water south around South America to contact the Saints. Colonel Kane had been a friend of the Saints in the Missouri and Illinois uprisings. He was a man who was trusted by both sides. He landed near Los Angeles, in California, and came up north through the southern settlements to treat with Brigham Young and the Mormons.

When Colonel Kane arrived in Salt Lake City, a grand council was called in the old council house. The council house was located at that time where now stands the Deseret News Building. An unbiased investigation was made. It was proved that the judges had misrepresented the facts. The court records were produced. Everything was there and intact. A grand treaty was signed. The Saints agreed to let the troops come in, and in the process had to assuage a War Department's ego, as it was thought by the United States Government that it would bring disgrace and bad publicity to the United States Army if its troops were turned back. Therefore, by common agreement, the army was allowed to bring its troops into the Salt Lake Valley during the month of June or July. The Latter-day Saints still harbored reservations and suspicions about these troops and when they came, there was nobody of consequence left in the city. Salt Lake was truly a silent city. A few of us were designated to remain. We were left to act as guards. I was one of those detailed to remain. Two or three hundred other men were stationed up in City Creek Canyon. I was chosen along with ten or twelve others to come down in the city and witness the troops pass through.

As a witness, I can tell you it was a grand sight. Most of the troops were on foot. They marched through the city orderly and precision-like. Not a word was spoken. Only the officers spoke, and that was mostly in giving orders. They continued down to the Jordan River, crossed over it where the White Bridge now stands, and made camp on the other side. When the first soldiers started to make camp, there were still supply wagons coming out of Emigration Canyon on the east bench. Toward evening all had arrived into the camp. Bugles sounded calling the reveille. The military remained there for two or three days, then they moved south to what was later called Camp Floyd in Cedar Valley just west of Lehi.

When it was evident that the Army was keeping its word and pledges, the Saints then began to return to their homes and farms. To the Saints it was proof that the Lord had accepted of their repentance and offerings. We were still willing, if necessary, to burn and leave our homes for our beliefs and Faith. A new era dawned on us and we began to prosper. The soldiers had brought many things that we needed and which were hard to get. They also gave us a market to sell our products. The troops remained in our area for several years, then the Great Civil War broke out between the North and the South. Most of the troops, under General Johnston, took sides for the South, and marched off down through Texas. Later they joined the great army of the South. General Johnston was killed in one of the battles. I would guess that a great many of the soldiers who were here were killed too. However, before these armed forces left this region, they sold much of their goods and military equipment for a mere song. Whatever remained or couldn't be taken with them, they burned or destroyed.

It was at Camp Floyd that the Walker Brothers made their start in business. They started a little store at Camp Floyd. They sold liquors to the troops and were very generous to the officers. When the final sale came off, the troops and the officers were very generous to the Walker boys. This business eventually became Walker Brothers Bank.

THE POLYGAMY QUESTION. In the 1880's the Federal Government began their persecution of the polygamists in Utah. The courts started some cases of segregation --- that is, if we had lived with our wives one month or one week, that would be another count. If they could segregate for one month or one week, they could segregate for each day. And if that was so, they might keep a person in the "jug" all his life.

The courts had brought two or three counts against Apostle Lorenzo Snow, but it was contested and taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. The Bill of Particulars against the Apostle was declared unconstitutional. Brother Snow was released from the Penitentiary after having served about fifteen months. The very day he was released, I was arrested on the charge of illegal cohabitation. I was arrested on February 8, 1887, by Captain Greenman, Deputy Franks, and Deputy Bench. Greenman served the papers. I was taken before Commissioner McKay the same day. The witnesses were Ellen Mary Butterworth, my plural wife, Charles Sperry and Harrison Sperry Jr., my sons. These witnesses were taken before the Grand Jury on February 8th. A true bill was found against me. I was declared guilty. I was to be sentenced later in the month. So before I was to go into the "Pen," I deeded a portion of my property to my two wives --- Susan and Ellen. I deeded to each of them a ten-acre lot and their homes. I figured if they kept me in the penitentiary all my life, my wives and children should have something to live in and on.

I was sentenced on the 28th of February 1887 at two o'clock in the afternoon by Judge Zane. I was sentenced to six months in jail, and to pay a fine of $300 and costs which amounted to $30. During the sentencing the court house was packed full. The indictment was read to me. Then the Judge asked me if I had anything to say. I told him that I would like to say a few words if I could have the privilege. This is approximately what I said:

"Your Honor, it is well known by everyone that knows the Latter-day Saint people that a Revelation was given them in regard to the Law of Celestial Marriage. It was given through one of the greatest prophets who ever lived upon this earth. In that Revelation it says unto whom this law is given they must obey. Your Honor, if it had stopped there, I don't know but what I might make a promise to obey the law as construed by this court, because I could obey; however, it goes on still farther and says: 'They must abide in the same or they shall be damned so saith the Lord God.' Your Honor, those words sink deep into my heart. I cannot go against my own conscience. If I came into this court and promised to obey the law as construed by the court, then I must reject, repudiate, or give up that principle. Your Honor, the price of your type of liberty is too great. I cannot afford it. Although I do not hanker any feelings toward you, for I realize that you are placed here by my great and powerful government. I honor you in your position. I honor also my friend, Mr. Dickson, who is so hotly pursuing and hounding me and my friends. I harbor no ire towards him. We are taught in the Holy Bible to pray for our enemies and those who would do us wrong. I do pray that they may see the truth. Our Saviour set us a good example when he was pouring out his life's blood for my sins and yours. He said: 'Father, forgive them for they know not what they do.' Your Honor, I wish to cultivate this spirit. I realize that I am a prisoner. You may do with me as it seemeth good to you. I will try to be saitsfied."

I was sentenced and lectured a little by the judge. I was taken to the Penitentiary that same evening. My fine and court costs were paid at a later date by my family. This bothered me some, but not so that first evening when I arrived at the penitentiary. There I was greeted by a great many of my dear friends. Thomas Butler, who was taken with me, became my bunk mate in the "Pen." He was a fine singer. I brought my violin with me so we had a good time that first night. On going into the dining room, we found only a slice of bread and a cup of tea. I thought that was rather rough for a beginning. A little past six o'clock we were assigned our bunk quarters. Brother William Foster was there with his guitar, so we whipped up some music for the other prisoners and tried to bring good cheer all around. At nine o'clock we were roped to our beds. We didn't sleep much --- So much for the first day.

I will now try to give a sample of my diary that I kept while confined. "I was called out this morning, Tuesday, March 1, at half past 6. We had hash for breakfast. In the afternoon the Grand Jury came into the Penitentiary to investigate conditions there. March 2nd was very cold. I was placed on police duty. In the afternoon I took a bath. March 3rd it was rumored that the President had signed the Edmond-Tucker Bill. Friday the 4th of March, I wrote a letter home to try and encourage my families to be of good cheer, even though I felt low. Saturday, March 5th was very chilly. I remained indoors, reading most of the time. George, my son, came to see me and brought a letter. He told me that my wife Susan was very sick. She had had a miscarriage. In the afternoon William Foster and I were called up to make music for the Warden, his wife, and the guards."

While thus confined I was able to strike up close speaking acquaintance with our well-known and later Apostle Rudger Clawson. He was sentenced to serve for five years. He kept a diary of all that had transpired while thus confined. He kept an account of every man that came into the "Pen." I borrowed his book and copied the most of it. It enabled me to count 237 Polygamists or "Cohabs" as they were called, who were confined here during Brother Clawson's term. And this doesn't account for the other Penitentiaries in other states. I presume that there have been over one thousand of the Mormon people imprisoned and fined for their sincere belief in the Principle of Celestial Marriage that was revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith. We believe that this Principle came from the Lord; hence our willingness to suffer imprisonment and fines rather than abandon it.

Eventually the basic principle of Polygamy was tried in the courts of the land. It went to the Supreme Court of the United States. Their biased decision was against us. The Mormon people had fought honorably in the courts with every instrument and recourse that was available to them. The Lord on High must have been satisfied with their efforts, for He gave us another Revelation, called the "Manifesto," through our present Prophet and President of the Church, Wilford Woodruff. This is binding on all good Saints and lets the world know that Polygamy as a Principle is now abandoned in practice by all good Latter-day Saints, and must be obeyed in order to remain in good and honorable standing. There are a few, mostly older men, who still live with their plural wives and provide for them. This is a gradual process and when they die off, polygamy will be at an end in the Church. At one time there were 2500 practicing Polygamists in the Church. However, at this time (1905), there are but 500 left. They are dwindling away fast.

I was released from the Utah Penitentiary after serving five months of my sentence. One month was knocked off for good behaviour. This was called a "Capper." The date of my release was just one day before the funeral of President John Taylor. This great man had died in Exile in Farmington, Utah, while the officers of the law were searching all over the United States for him, and for hundreds of others, too.

A month or two after I was released from prison, my wife Ellen was confined and brought forth a fine son. We named him Edmond. I had to be careful that I was not seen around Ellen's home for the Marshalls and Deputies were still on the lookout for "Cohabs" as they were called. One year after my release, my wife Susan was delivered of another fine boy. We named him Ralph Beardmore. You can readily see that my posterity kept on the increase even though confined for many months.

SHEEP BUSINESS. There were several Polygamists in the "Pen" with me that were sheep men. They told such fine stories about sheep raising that I got the sheep fever and I had a little money on hand. It seemed to me that the sheep business would be profitable, so I bought about two thousand head. Inasmuch as I was Bishop of the Fourth Ward, which required much of my time, and my boys didn't take to sheep herding, I found it just too difficult to make the time necessary for success in this type of business. I had to let them out on shares. Those with whom I shared, in my opinion, took too much advantage of my absence---I was easy pickings, I guess. Therefore, I began selling off my sheep. This got me into a law suit. As soon as I got out of this one, I was pulled into another. I was kept in hot water, so it seemed, for a long time. Finally, I got a chance to sell the whole herd, but at a loss. I finally got out of this business, which had taken so much of my time for some twelve years. This adventure had cost me part of my farm and $6000, including the outfit wagon. The first Winter I lost several hundred sheep. Luck seemed agin me. One year I would gain. The next I would lose. My wife Susan and her boys had shares with me in the sheep. So when I sold out and quit the business, we divided up the money. Susan built a house to rent with her money. I just paid my debts. I was behind in the money I had invested but I had accumulated a ranch in Tooele, which I later sold.

FINAL ENTRY. This is written by my own hand on the 17th of May 1922. Harrison Sperry was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on the 24th of March 1841 near La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois, by Elder Zenith Gurley. (This doesn't entirely agree with his earlier account.) I was born on the 24th of March in the State of Ohio in a little town in the northeast part of the state called Mecca. My present residence is 1409 South 3rd East Street, in Salt Lake City, Utah. My father's name was Joy Sperry. My mother's maiden name was Mary Lamont. They were both born in New York State.

(Harrison Sperry Sr., 1847 Pioneer to Utah, died at his home in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 28th of July 1928. He had reached the age of 96 years, 4 months, and 4 days. His Funeral was held in Whittier Ward of Grant Stake. The President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Heber J. Grant, attended the services. He was buried in the City Cemetery Family Plot.)

A TRIBUTE TO GRANDFATHER. As a grandchild to this great man, I think I would be remiss in my duties if I didn't say a few words about events in which my grandfather was involved. Living next door to him until about the age of 16 years and which only ended in his passing away, I was enabled to observe the continual stream of goodly people that came to his door. Let me say at the onset that Patriarch Harrison Sperry was a giant both spiritually and physically, and an adored King in the eyes of his family. He was a legend in his time to those who knew him outside the family.

He had lived through and had part in all the great and dramatic times and roles of the early history of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, or better known as the "Mormons." As a child, he had sat at the Prophet's knee and had heard him talk. As a young boy, he had crossed the Great American Plains by oxen team, at an impressionable age when each day of this Trek was a lark and an adventure to a 15-year-old boy. Advancing through the Priesthood to a Bishop had taught him the value of love for his fellow men, how weak man really was unless he relied on God and the Power of His Priesthood. In this atmosphere, he developed a mature personality and character. Temporally he had seen lean days and prosperity. There were days when he and his family lacked even a morsel to eat. He was resourceful and knew where to go when in need. He could stand and feel at home with the Captains and the Kings. He was a brother full of love, help, and sympathy to those of a lesser status.

People from all over the United States, and especially those of his Faith, came to shake his hand, to rub shoulders with one who had known the Prophet, to bask in his spiritual and uplifting presence, to hear his voice and his testimonies on the truth of the Gospel, the Church, the life of Joseph Smith, the Power of the Priesthood; to get a Patriarchal Blessing from him; and, on rare occasions, to hear him talk in Tongues (the Adamic Language).

In relation to the latter, I vividly remember one Faith Promoting Incident of great worth. A lovely, faithful, and loyal daughter of Zion was the description of Mrs. Annie Brown Jacobs. She lived with her husband in the northeast corner house of Third East and Bryan Avenue just across the street from the Whittier Elementary School in Salt Lake City. The time of this event was a Sunday afternoon in the year of about 1925, just a few years before his death. Mrs. Jacobs had been extremely ill for about a week and confined to her bed. She had the feeling she could leave this life at any time.

In this frame of mine she phoned the Bishop to have the Elders of the Church come and Administer to her. The following Elders of the Priesthood volunteered to come: Patriarch Harrison Sperry, Bishop Thomas E. Towler, Counselors Sam Peterson and William C. Tanner, Ward Clerk Fred W. Schwendiman, Seventies Leo Jardine and Noble Sheffield. There may have been others. When they arrived at her home, the group assembled at her bedside and held a prayer circle. Then her head was anointed with Sacred Oil. Patriarch Sperry was chosen to seal the anointing. He placed his hands on her head and began speaking, then a hush came over the group as he began talking in Tongues. This was something new to those assembled. They waited in quiet anticipation -- a miracle was taking place in their very presence. As the ceremony came to a close, the mantel of Interpretation once again came on the Patriarch, and among other things he explained that in the Spirit of the Priesthood he had promised Mrs. Jacobs complete recovery of her health and strength.

Mrs. Jacobs got up immediately from her sick bed and spoke to the Elders saying, "I am completely cured and well again." That very evening she and her husband were in attendance at Sacrament Meeting, as was I. Bishop Thomas E. Towler remarked to us in the audience that a number of the Priesthood were privileged that afternoon to witness a miraculous healing, and the Talking in Tongues. All of the members of the Priesthood present at this occurrence gave frequent testimony in Fast Meetings and in prepared talks of this unique experience. Later these men became members of Bishoprics, Stake Presidents, Mission Presidents, and even Temple Presidents in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

This was one Faith Promoting Event in the life of Patriarch Harrison Sperry that I was aware of and close to. There were numerous others. The children and grandchildren of this Great Man were aware of many other similar such events. What a pity. What a shame. What a catastrophe to mankind and posterity that these things weren't written down and recorded. In defense, we can only say that we were too close to the events to think of them as being out of the normal and everyday things of the time.

HARRISON SPENCER SPERRY

Veteran Member Of Church Hears Final Summons

Harrison Sperry

Pioneer of 1847 Spent Long Life in Interest of Utah and Salt Lake City.

Harrison Sperry, who for many years held the distinction of being the oldest living member of the L. D. S. church and the only person who remembered the prophet, Joseph Smith, died Saturday at the age of 96 years. Death occurred at his home, 1409 South Third East street.

Mr. Sperry had been a resident of Salt Lake for eighty-one years, having crossed the plains in the fall of 1847 with the company of Jedediah M. Grant, father of President Heber J. Grant. He was born in Ohio, March 24, 1832, and was baptized into the church at the age of 8 years.

Soon after arriving in Salt Lake valley, Mr. Sperry returned over the old Mormon trail to meet the first handcart company wending its way toward Utah. He had a notable career in civil, military and religious life. He fought in the Chief Walker Indian war and was a member of President Brigham Young's bodyguard. He was one of Salt Lake's first volunteer firemen and served two terms in the city council when Brigham Young was mayor.

Mr. Sperry was active almost until the time of his death, and was an outstanding figure at the old folks outings and the July 24 celebrations, which he almost invariably attended.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary Ellen Butterworth Sperry, he is survived by the following sons and daughters: Charles A., Byron, Ralph, Edmund and Harrison Sperry, Jr., all of Salt Lake; William O. Sperry, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Joseph Preece, Mrs. David F. Walker, Mrs. Harvey Stout and Mrs. Rudolph Holmes, all of Salt Lake. Fifty grandchildren and thirty-six great-grandchildren also survive. His first wife, Mrs. Susan Mosley Sperry, died thirty years ago.

Funeral announcement will be made later.

I was born in the state of Ohio 30 June 1829. My father moved to Ohio from New York State when Ohio was a new country. There he opened up a farm and built a saw mill. He lived there in Ohio until the Spring of 1836 when, with his family, he moved to the state of Illinois, arriving in Adams County, Illinois, where my brother John had moved the year before. That same Fall 1836, our family moved to La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois, where I spent my boyhood days. My father, Joy Sperry, bought a small farm there. He built a house in the townsite, for it was a small place at that time. Father worked during the Summer at carpentering and millwrighting. During the Winter he worked in the shop making spinning wheels and doing other mechanical work. I worked with him and learned the business.

In the Summer of 1839 my father and a portion of the family joined the "Mormon Church," subsequently a large branch of the Church was built up in that town. During the trouble before and after Joseph Smith was martyred, mobs threatened to come and burn the town. It kept us constantly on the watch guarding the roads. The mobs were a terrible menace to the inhabitants of Hancock County. They threatened to drive the Mormons out of the country after they had killed the Prophet. They burned many of our houses and stacks. They drove out much of our stock. Finally, they sent a committee to make a treaty with the leaders of the Church to have them leave the state. Terms were agreed upon which the mobs never lived up to. They agreed to buy the property of the "Mormons", which to this day they have never done.

After this agreement, the biggest portion of the Saints left and crossed the Mississippi River. All that could go, went. Only the poor, the sick, and the indigent were left. The mobs came on them with a large force and canonaded the town of Nauvoo. In defense, the "Mormons" made a cannon out of a steamboat shaft and defended themselves as best they could. They did good execution with it. Two of our people were killed by the cannonading, a father and a son. The mobs finally gained possession of the town, Nauvoo. The Saints had to cross the Mississippi River or be driven into it. The mobs were indifferent to the starving people left on the west bank of the Mississippi. However, this is where a miracle took place as quail flew into their camps by the thousands. The sick put out their hands and caught them even on their beds. The many camps were helped and sustained by that means.

In the Spring of 1846 my father and mother, with most of his family, left our home in La Harpe and started west. Before leaving, Boise Oatman and his wife, who was my sister Mary and who lived in Whiteside County, Illinois, came to see us. They were "Rigdonites," so-called because they believed that Sidney Rigdon was the right man to lead the church, or at least to be the Guardian of the church until the church became twenty-one (21) years of age when it could choose a leader for itself. Oatman tried to persuade my father not to go with the TWELVE APOSTLES, but to go to Pittsburgh, Rigdon's gathering place. Boise Oatman and my sister remained about one week. He and my father had many arguments respecting where the authority rested to lead the Church. Finally the day came when the Oatmans were to start back home. They got to arguing again at the breakfast table. Finally Oatman said, "I see Father Sperry it is no use to talk with you. I prophecy in the name of the Lord that if you go west with your family, your children will go hungry and some will starve to death. Your throats will be cut from ear to ear by the Indians." My father replied, "Be careful now how you prophecy in the name of the Lord." Strange to say, that particular prophecy was fulfilled on the 19th of March 1851, not on my father's family but upon Boise Oatman and his family. It took place on the Gila River in Arizona.

As I was saying, we left our home in the Spring of 1846. We took our journey westward, crossing the Mississippi River and traveling part way through Iowa until we came to one fork of the Grand River, called Mount Pisgah. There we halted for a time. We built a house and made a garden on the river bottom. As it was considered best to have oxen rather than horses for teams, and we had some horses, my brothers William, Aaron, and I took the horses and went back as far as the Des Moines River. There we worked some in the harvest and traded one horse for oxen. William took the other horse and went back to La Harpe, Illinois, to settle up some business. Aaron and I took the team and started back to Mount Pisgah some time in September 1846.

On the way back, Aaron took sick, from which he never recovered, dying toward the last of December 1846. When we arrived home with the rest of the family, we found out that during our absence, our dear mother had died, sometime in August, I think. We found the remainder of the family sick with the chills and fever. We had not been home more than a few weeks before I was taken down with the same complaint. My younger brother, Harrison, was just able to look after the stock. We remained there until the middle of October when a company from La Harpe came along. Captain Smith had charge. They had heard that Father Sperry's family was up the river all sick. They came up with their wagons. Father told them there was a garden with all kinds of vegetables, and to help themselves, but that he wanted them to put us in our wagons and take us along with them out of that sick hole. Although it was sickly, yet Mount Pisgah still had some charms about it. First because there lies my sainted mother, Mary Lamont Sperry. Second for there I first met the girl that afterwards I made my wife.

Captain Smith loaded us into our wagons and took us near to a place called Hyland Grove. We hired a man to build us a home. In the meantime he told us we could move into his house with him. While there my brother Aaron died, and my brother William returned to us from Illinois. There was much sickness about this time, other than chills and fever. It was called blackleg and scurvy. The two latter illnesses were caused by the lack of vegetables. My father and my brother Aaron died with this complaint. I myself came down with this same complaint. I did not expect to live and would not have turned my hand over to have done so. My father Joy Sperry died on New Years day 1847.

About one week after we got into our new house at Hyland Grove, Iowa, I continued to be quite sick, as chills would come on in the night. I would get out some in the daytime. Often the young folks would have dances in the houses nearby. I would be invited to go and bring my violin, but I was so weak I could hardly crawl around. Notwithstanding I was so very weak, I still liked to go so that I might be in company and get a chance to see my girl. She used to cheer up my drooping spirits.

One day in February 1847, while the sun was shining on the snow, I was out of doors when I heard a squirrel chirping in the woods. As our house was near the woods, I took my rifle and walked out. I found the squirrel, but he ran into a hole in the tree. I watched for him as I wanted some fresh meat. While standing there in anticipation near a basswood tree, I picked off some twigs and buds and began eating them. They tasted very good. The squirrel came out. I took aim and my game came down. Before returning to the house, I pulled off a quantity of twigs and buds and took them along with the game to the house. I ate the buds and some of the game. From that time on I began to mend fast. I attribute that to the saving of my life. It was the turning point. I soon found more game.

I think it was the day before my father died. He called his family to his bedside and made a request of us. It was understood that the pioneers among us would start early in the Spring to find a place to permanently locate the people, somewhere west of the Rocky Mountains. Father requested that we follow the Mormon Pioneers in the Spring. We had then a pretty good outfit of teams and wagons, and it has always given me a great deal of satisfaction that we kept our promise. In the Spring, we soon began preparing our wagons for the start. We left Hyland Grove about the middle of June 1847. We had three yoke of oxen, two cows, and two wagons which crossed the Missouri River. The third day out we made our way to the Elkhorn River. We forded that stream on a log raft. We left that place along the Elkhorn River about the last few days of June 1847.

The companies were organized into Hundreds, Fifties, and Tens. We traveled in Jedediah M. Grant's Company, Williard Snow's Fifty. Thus we took our journey westward. Sometimes there were so many companies camped together, it was necessary to travel in two or three colonies. There was a guard called out to go with the cattle when we camped. Sometimes the cattle remained out all night, but very often they were brought up and corralled. We kept guard in camp as well as with our cattle. We traveled up the Platte River for hundreds of miles. Fort Laramie was about 500 miles from Elkhorn River. We crossed the Platte River to the south shore for the first time at that place. Emigrants going to Oregon traveled on the south side of the river while we traveled on the north side until we came to Fort Laramie. Having arrived at that place, we then traveled on the South side of the River, crossed over a ridge, and came upon the Sweet Water River. We worked our way up that stream for some distance. Then we crossed the back bone. After passing the Pacific Springs, the water ran west.

We had a number of stampedes on the way across the Plains. The stock would get scared about something, almost anything, break out of the corral, and then run off. Once about 25 head broke away and went back to the Missouri River, about one hundred and fifty miles. One of our oxen was in the bunch. We were lucky to get him back the next year. At times the whole train of 50 to 100 wagons would stampede, then everybody would have to look after themselves to keep from being run over.

Our family group got into the Salt Lake Valley near the middle or last of October 1847, with five oxen, three cows, and two wagons. It was a dry looking country to settle in. The land didn't look like it had been watered for twenty years. We began to work making adobe bricks to build our houses. All the adobe bricks at that time were made 18 inches long, 9 inches wide, and 4 inches thick. It was as much as a man wanted to do to lift one. After we got them made, we didn't know how to lay them as there were few brick masons in the land. I watched and concentrated on a man at work for a few hours. Then I went home. I made me a plumb stick, got a line made, and went to work laying up the bricks for the house. I had all the mason work I could handle after that.

All of our houses at that time were flat on the top, as it looked as though it never would rain. We put poles and dirt on top for a covering. The first year we had a very pleasant Winter. It was quite warm. Our stock did well, considering they were poor when they came into the valley. After we got our house finished, I was a full fledged brick mason. I had all the work I could do. The following summer I was building out on the city lots. After we got into our houses, we seemed quite comfortable.

I was baptized into the Church as an adult about the last day of January 1848 by James C. Willey. We used to have dances and other amusements. At about this time, I gave my most attention somehow to a lovely Miss Miller. That made things a little more pleasant than they otherwise would have been. Our company seemed to be quite agreeable to both of us, and on the 21st of February 1848, we were joined together as husband and wife by Apostle John Taylor. We were the second couple to be married in Utah and the Salt Lake Valley.

We commenced housekeeping, although we had no house of our own. We rented a house from a man who went out on a farm. Our breadstuff soon ran very short. I, along with Daniel Miller and some others, spent most of the Summer hunting for a living. We found lots of game. We also raised some wheat and corn. Late in the Summer, quite a number of us went with wagons, crossing the Weber River and moving into Echo Canyon. Among our traveling group was Sister Eliza Snow, Sister Holmes, Father Miller, Daniel Miller, Israel Hoyt, my dear wife and I. We killed many antelopes, and the sisters gathered berries. We lived on meat and berries.

Israel Hoyt and I came back into the Salt Lake Valley about harvest time. It was obvious that some wheat had been thrashed. As we rode into the fort gate, we saw a man winnowing up some on a wagon cover. We stopped, got off our horses, felt of the wheat, let it run through our fingers, and tasted it. I felt so thankful to see wheat that had been raised in the valley. Big tears ran down my face. Our folks had also thrashed some. We were allowed about a bushel and a half. We got it ground and then started back to Echo Canyon. We found everyone well. There was great rejoicing in our camp to think we had brought some flour (or graham) from wheat raised in the Salt Lake Valley. The good sisters got a piece of cloth, sifted some flour and made some pie crust. To please us, they made pies out of the berries and currants. They also baked bread. We can only say that we had a joyful time that night. We celebrated with music and dancing. Sister Eliza Snow danced and felt full of joy. We stayed a few days longer and then returned home.

On the 16th of November 1848, our first daughter Amanda was born. At the time we thought our joy was full. We passed the Winter of 1848 again in the fort and our flat roofed house. Nothing in particular occurred until March 1849. There had been so much rainfall, it had wet the bottom adobes of our house. The whole front fell out. There we were left to live in a shed. I had a house partly built on my city lot. We went quickly to work, finished it, and moved in. We wintered there during the Winter of 1849. That next Spring (1850) emigrants began to pass through Salt Lake City by the thousands on their way to the gold mines in California. We got a good many things from the emigrants to keep house with. Before that time we were very short. That same season we raised a fair crop of wheat and corn. Israel Hoyt sold some of his flour to the emigrants for one dollar per pound. Many others did the same.

In the Spring of 1850 I, along with eleven others, went back on the Pioneer road as far as the Green River. There we built two ferry boats. We ferried people and their outfits across the river. We were gone three months and made $900 apiece. We went out with nothing and came back each with a good outfit.

In the Fall of 1851 I, along with four others, traveled south to a place called Salt Creek, later renamed Nephi, Utah. We were mainly looking at the facilities and possibilities there. If we liked it, we calculated to move there. We were favorably impressed with its possibilities. We then located our city lots, got some poles and made stack-yards. We planted and cut five loads of hay apiece and then went back home to Salt Lake City. We sold out our property and holdings in the Salt Lake Valley as soon as we could. We then moved our families down to Nephi. We worked speedily to make roads into the canyons, got out logs, built our homes, and got into them before Christmas 1851. Seventeen families wintered in Nephi that first Winter. We had our amusements along with the others that first year. We collectively built a public picket corral, raised a fair crop, and in general felt quite satisfied with our progress. We also built a school and a meeting house (church).

In the Spring of 1853, an "Indian War" broke out. It was called the "Walker War." The Indians on the warpath killed a man named Keeler. The Indians went up Spanish Fork way, passed over to Mount Pleasant, and would have massacred all the families there if it had not been for the timely aid of the residents of Nephi. I made express speed south to Fillmore and had to swim the Sevier River to give them warning of the Indians. From that time on we were in a state of siege at Nephi. We tore down our houses and made a fort of them. We lived in that kind of a stockade for some two years. President Brigham Young then told us to build a Spanish wall around nine blocks, which we did. The wall was twelve feet high, six feet wide at the bottom, and two and one-half feet wide at the top, with two heavy gates. When we got that completed, we then felt a bit more secure. To celebrate its completion, we had three days of dancing and feasting. To us it was a glorious time.

Our feeling of prosperity and security was short-lived, for there were other troubles such as grasshoppers taking our crops. We raised very little for a number of years. On September 30, 1853, I bought the first stepstone from N. C. Lund. I paid for it with corn. I worked a great deal of my time at mason work. I helped build the Social Hall, the Tabernacle, and many other buildings in Nephi. I later held many public positions of responsibility and trust in Juab County --- Selectman, Constable, Sheriff, School Trustee, Road Supervisor, etc.

I was active in the Latter-day Saint Church and held many positions of responsibility. On Sunday October 1, 1865, the 71st Quorum of Seventies was organized at Nephi, Utah, with Edward Oakley, Samuel Claridge, Edwin Harley, Daniel Miller, John Kienke, Charles Sperry, and Benjamin Riches as Presidents. On the 25th of February 1872, I was ordained a High Priest. Joel Glover, holding the Melchizedek Priesthood Authority ordained me. I was set apart to preside over the High Priests in Juab County that Summer. I was later chosen by President Joel Glover as his First Counselor in the Presidency of Juab Stake. I held this position for five years.

Nephi was originally divided into two wards with Joel Glover as Bishop of the South Nephi Ward and Charles Sperry as Bishop of the North Nephi Ward. This was when George Teasdale, at a special conference in Nephi held Sunday the 1st of July 1877, was made president of the stake. When Brother George Teasdale was named an Apostle of the Latter-day Saint Church, William Paxman was chosen President of the Juab Stake (January 28, 1883). Joel Grover had died in the meantime. I was again chosen as first counselor to President William Paxman with James Paxman, son of William Paxman, being chosen as the second counselor.

In 1892 I was called on a short mission to work in the Tooele Stake in the interest of the Church Sunday School Board. I performed this mission with a great deal of pleasure. In the Fall of 1880 I had the privilege of going to the St. George Temple to do work for the Living and the Dead. I was privileged to be at the dedication of the Manti Temple. I was present to hear the singing of the Heavenly Chorus at the dedication of the Salt Lake Temple. At this time I was permitted to meet with the authorities of the whole Church at a meeting. We partook of the Lord's Supper and formed a circle, the largest one up to this time in this generation. Everyone had the privilege of giving his testimony. I consider this to be the happiest and the greatest day of my life.

After William Paxman died, James W. Paxman and I presided for some time. Later James Paxman was set apart as Stake President of the Juab Stake with me once more as his first counselor. It was during this time that I was urged by the Church Authorities to enter into Polygamy to set an example to the Faithful of the Church. Being an obedient man, I married a second wife, Alena Margaretta Terkelson. I am the first to admit that my first wife watched me so closely that I had very little chance to live with my second wife.

On February 21, 1898, my first wife, Emily Louisa Miller Sperry, and I celebrated our Golden Wedding Anniversary. We looked upon this as one of the greatest events of our lives. Our family (except one son, William), grandchildren, and great-grandchildren rendered an excellent program. Many relatives and friends were present. Just before the banquet was served, Apostle George Teasdale arranged my descendants in the shape of a horse-shoe around me. And after inviting the assembly to vote on my worthiness, he ordained me a PATRIARCH to the Juab Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It was a very solemn and affectionate ceremony.

In the Fall of 1895, my wife Emily and I made a trip back to Illinois to visit our relatives and to note the change at La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois, the home of my boyhood. We also spent some time in Iowa with my wife's relatives. It was indeed quite a change to travel in a luxurious railroad pullman instead of by ox team. Well, time went on and we were privileged to celebrate our 60th Wedding Anniversary on the 21st of February 1908. Emily, my dear companion for so many years, passed away on the 22nd of October 1908, after a year of ill health. She was 81 years, 6 months, and 6 days old.

I miss her very much. I visited among my children and grandchildren for some two or three years. Then I made my home with my daughter, Mrs. Mary Emily Black.

Charles Sperry (1847 Pioneer to Utah) passed away on the 31st of May 1914 from the effects of a fall on the pavement near his home. Three weeks previously he had reached the age of 84 years and 11 months. He left a large posterity to this generation. Emily and Charles Sperry had a family of 11 children: 6 girls and 5 boys. At his demise they had 69 grandchildren, 80 great-grandchildren, and 3 great-great-grandchildren. He was a loving father to his family and a great man in his community. He was buried in Nephi, Juab County, Utah.

THE HISTORY OF ELIZABETH (BETSEY) LAMONT SPERRY (1847 Pioneer to Utah)

Elizabeth (Betsey) Lamont Sperry was the second daughter born to Joy Sperry and Mary Lamont Sperry. Mary Ann Sperry was an older sister. Phoebe Sperry and Sarah Sperry were younger sisters. She had five brothers --- John, William Lamont, Aaron George, Charles, and Harrison. Among the boys of the family only John Sperry was her elder. Betsey was born 2 October 1816 at Henrietta, Monroe County, New York. She participated in all the moves that her family made from New York State to Mecca, Trumbull County, Ohio, and then to La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois, and eventually across the Great Plains and into the Rocky Mountains to Utah. Being the eldest daughter after the death of her parents, she became like a mother to the remaining younger members of the family on the Pioneer Trek to Utah. She was an active participant in all of the pioneering experiences that are so ably described in the Journals of Charles and Harrison Sperry, her younger brothers. There is a Puritanical Rumor which was only spoken of by the adult members of the family and in very hushed tones to the effect that Betsey was captured by one of the mobs in Illinois. Knowing that she was a "Mormon," and in their blind and brutal hatred toward all "Mormons," they proceeded to rape her --- resulting in the birth of Helen Josephine Sperry, her daughter, in 1844 at La Harpe, Illinois. Helen Josephine Sperry was later adopted by her husband in Utah, Timothy Sabin Hoyt.

(The remainder of her history is taken from History of the Hoyt Family by Mary E. Hoyt.)

Grandfather James Hoyt and his wife Beulah Sabin, with their daughter Lucy Hoyt Allred and their son Israel, started for Utah in Jediah M. Grant's Company, the Fairbanks 50, and the Nobles 10. They arrived in Salt Lake Valley in October 1847. They lived in Salt Lake City until Father Timothy Sabin Hoyt returned from the Mormon Battalion. Timothy Sabin Hoyt had remained in California and had worked in the gold placer mines until the Fall of 1848. After he was mustered out of the United States Army, he and Grandfather James Hoyt took up land in Mill Creek, Salt Lake County. My father, Timothy Sabin Hoyt, married my mother, Elizabeth (Betsey) Lamont Sperry, the 15th of April 1849 in Salt Lake City, Utah. They made their home at Mill Creek in the Salt Lake Valley. Their sons Timothy and Henry were both born there. They continued to live there until the Spring of 1853 when Grandfather James Hoyt wanted to move to Salt Creek, later named Nephi, Juab County, Utah. He wanted my father to go with him. It was at first not agreeable to father and mother, for they were getting along nicely in Mill Creek. My father wanted Grandfather Hoyt to sell his twenty acres of land to him and let him remain in Salt Lake Valley, but Grandfather would not listen to him staying. So they both finally agreed to sell their land. In February 1853 they started out for Salt Creek. They arrived there in a blinding snow storm on the 2nd of March 1853. Uncle Israel Hoyt and Uncle Charles Sperry had gone to Salt Creek a couple of years before, and that was the driving reason why Grandfather Hoyt was so anxious to go. Grandfather Hoyt now had his two boys Timothy and Israel with him. In May 1853, Grandfather Hoyt caught cold which settled in his throat. He died on the 28th of May 1853.

He was the first person buried in the Old Cemetery. Grandmother Beulah Sabin Hoyt died the 12th of December 1859 in Nephi. She was buried by Grandfather Hoyt's side.

My father and mother spent the remainder of their lives in Nephi, Utah. They lived through the trying times of the Indian Troubles. I have heard mother say, "that the women folks would never take off their clothes at night for fear of the Indians making a break on them at night." She said the Summer I was born (2 September 1853), she was never undressed but only to change her clothes. After the Big Wall was completed, they felt a bit more safe. However, for a long time, they were in constant worry, especially when the men went for wood outside of the Wall. The men went in companies and carried their guns with them. Some of the men would remain on guard while the others cut the wood and loaded their wagons. My folks also had the problem of the grasshoppers and crickets to fight to save their grain. They were brave, faithful souls and had many, sundry and various hardships to endure.

My father, Timothy Sabin Hoyt, was born in the town of Booneville, Oneida County, New York, on the 4th of March 1818. He was baptized into the Latter-day Saints Church on the 9th of March 1839 in New York State. He died in Nephi, Juab County, Utah, on the 2nd of August 1879. My mother's maiden name was Elizabeth (Betsey) Lamont Sperry, a daughter of Joy Sperry and Mary Lamont Sperry. She was born in Henrietta, Monroe County, New York, on the 2nd of October 1816. Mother died on the 25th of November 1884 at Nephi, Juab County, Utah. My mother and father had five children of their own and one adopted daughter. They were grandparents to seven children and six great-grandchildren. All are buried in the same Cemetery at Nephi, Utah.

THE HISTORY OF WILLIAM LAMONT SPERRY (1847 Pioneer to Utah)

William Lamont Sperry was the sixth child and second boy of Joy Sperry and Mary Lamont Sperry. He was born on the 20th of April 1824 at Londonville, Ashland County, Ohio. His immediate older sister, Sarah, and the younger brothers --- George Aaron, Charles, and Harrison --- were all born at Mecca, Trumbull County, Ohio. No explanation is given in family histories as to why he was born away from the home at Mecca, Ohio. His other older sisters --- Phoebe, Elizabeth, Mary, and an older brother, John --- were all born in New York State.

William was with the family when they moved to La Harpe, Hancock County, Illinois, in the Spring of 1836. Apparently William took more time to accept the preaching of the Mormon Elders than did his Father, his brother Harrison, and his sister Sarah. These three were baptized in a stream near La Harpe in or before the Fall of 1841. William was finally baptized on the 4th of July 1844. William suffered along with his father's family all the persecutions, plunderings, and threats directed at the Latter-day Saints in that turbulent period in Illinois between 1844 and 1847. So, when Joy Sperry, his wife, and the younger members of the family started West and reached the fork of the Grand River, called Mount Pisgah in southern Iowa, William was enthusiastically with them.

William was close to his mother and father. His father, Joy Sperry, had great confidence in William. For he sent him back to La Harpe to get more provisions for the family and to settle up some unfinished business which still remained in connection with their farm there. William rejoined the family again at Hyland Grove, Iowa. It was here that he first learned of the death of his mother at Mount Pisgah. This must have been a great shock to him, for he idolized his mother. He even carried her surname in his own name. After the death of his younger brother, Aaron, and his father at Hyland Grove, William, now the oldest boy, assumed a fatherly role to this little family at the tender age of 23.

William amply demonstrated his deep love and devotion to his father, his mother, and the other members of the family. The family responded readily to his leadership. He guided them in unity, love, and understanding to the Elkhorn River. Here they joined Jedediah M. Grant's Company and Williard Snow's 50 of kindred Mormon Pioneers, moving west across the Great American Plains. Strangely, the name of the 10 group to which they were assigned is not mentioned. Their route carried them for the most part along the north banks of the Platte River in what is now called Nebraska. William participated in all the Indian scares, buffalo hunts, stampedes, and other pioneer experiences so ably described in his younger brothers' journals. William was much more a doer than a talker or writer. He exercised a stabilizing influence on this little orphaned pioneer family.

An interesting comment can be made here. William's future wife, Margaret Ann Sidwell, was an oxen team driver in the Jedediah M. Grant Company, but under Joseph Noble's 50 and Hazan Kimball's 10. Little or nothing is said in his younger brothers' journals as to whether these two were seen in each other's company. However, one can safely assume or speculate that in this one thousand mile or more journey from the Elkhorn River to the Salt Lake Valley that they had favorably noticed each other at one time or another along the way.

Both families, the Sperrys and the Sidwells, reached the Salt Lake Valley on or about the 17th of October 1847. They were in the last company of Mormon Pioneers to reach the valley that year. The Sperrys and the Sidwells were housed in the Old South Fort during the first winter. Charles Sperry, William's younger brother, had studied and practiced enough to become a self-made mason. He laid the adobe for the two-room, dirt-roof, earth-floor houses occupied by both these families. Their houses were adjacent to each other. In the Sidwell Family History it states: "Soon after Margaret Sidwell's arrival in the Salt Lake Valley, she became acquainted with the Sperry Family, their home being separated only by an adobe wall. A friendship grew between William and Margaret which ripened into love, and in the year of 1849 they were married." Harrison Sperry's Journal mentions that his brothers, William and Charles, after the surveys were finished, both drew city lots in 1849. They proceeded to build houses on them. William and Margaret lived in Salt Lake City until 1856. At that time they sold their holdings in the Salt Lake Valley and moved to a place called Salt Creek, later called Nephi, in Juab County, Utah. They remained in Nephi until their deaths.

William Sperry held many positions of honor and trust in the community. He was looked upon as a minute man in pioneer life. At one time he took over the reins of Sheriff of Juab County with headquarters at Nephi, Utah. In general, however, William was a rather retiring sort of man. He didn't seek the limelight. He enjoyed most working his farm and taking care of his large family. At times this was quite a difficult problem, for he was called upon by the church officials to work on the Salt Lake Temple. This duty necessitated being away from his family for months at a time. His wife, Margaret, heroically carried on. She took care of the home and the family, and most likely worked the farm in those troublesome days. In addition, she was always helping those who were sick or in need. Margaret had a reputation for always maintaining a cheerful disposition through all the ups and downs of pioneer life.

Margaret Ann Sidwell Sperry was the mother of twelve (12) children, grandmother to 70 grandchildren, and 68 great-grandchildren. She was blessed with good health all her life, never having any serious illnesses. She passed away December 1, 1916, at the age of 87 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Leavett, of Provo, Utah. William Sperry, 1847 Pioneer to Utah, passed away at his home in Nephi, Juab County, Utah, on the 10th of January 1901. He had reached the age of 76 years and 9 months.

SPERRYS OF DISTINCTION AND NOTE

BANKERS --- ISAAC BILLIONS KIRTLAND, A banker of Memphis, Tennessee. He married Lucy Sperry (J)(6). This couple had ten children. The family later moved to New York City, New York, where he became a big Wall Street banker around the 1850's.

*ALFRED WILLARD SPERRY (R)(8), Bank of Italy, Stockton CA (see below).

JEDEDIAH BUSHNELL SPERRY (D)(6) became a Merchant and Banker with residence at Fayette, Iowa. He was married 12 October 1835 to Celia Caroline Cole. This union produced four sons. He married second Charlotte B. (Dunbar) Tryon. He married a third time 16 September 1869 to Belle Franklin.

BUSINESSMEN --- *ALFRED WILLARD SPERRY (R)(8) was born at Stockton CA 7 September 1887. He received his primary education in the public schools of Stockton and later attended private schools. He became an agent for the Stockton Plant of the SPERRY FLOUR COMPANY and was a member of the original Sperry Family of California. "Fred" also was a member of the Advisory Board of the Bank of Italy in Stockton CA. He was married on the 24th of November 1912 to Miss Loraine Brooks.

CHARLES SPERRY (R)(8) was one of the most enterprising citizens of San Joaquin Co. CA. He was born in the State of Vermont 13 September 1825, a son of Benjamin Sperry. In his early manhood he went to Boston MA and became a clerk in a mercantile house. In 1854 he made the trip to CA and with a cousin established general merchandise stores which they conducted with much success. In 1857 he left mercantile life and then was identified chiefly with ranching. He was united in marriage 28 May 1860 with Miss Lydia J. Sperry (R)(8) by whom he had four children.

JARED SPERRY (J)(6) was born 11 September 1813 in Litchfield CT. He became a prominent Merchant in Mt. Vernon OH. He married Belinda Cooley Miles 15 April 1843. This couple were blessed with three children. Jared died in Mt. Vernon OH 8 February 1886.

SIDNEY LYMAN SPERRY (R)(10) Enterpriser and Financier is the eldest son of the Prominent Educator, Dr. Sidney Branton Sperry, of BYU fame. He was born at American Fork UT 13 July 1923. He was educated in the schools of Provo UT and took out his B.A. degree at the Brigham Young University. He served a year's apprenticeship with the Marriot "Hotte Shoppe" at Washington, D.C. Early in young adulthood, he became a salesman for pharmaceutical and doctor supplies, which he did with considerable distinction. However, his deep interest in "Drive-In" food preparation and sale motivated his accumulation of considerable holdings along this line in the Los Angeles CA area, eastern Washington, and northern Idaho. "Lyman," as he is known to his family, married Patricia Anne Bunker, niece of Senator Bunker of Nevada, 28 June 1950. This couple makes their home in the Provo UT area. They have nine children --- five boys and four girls.

DIPLOMATS --- WATSON ROBERTSON SPERRY (R)(8) became the United States Minister to Persia. He married Julia Henderson. This couple's formal home was New York City NY.

*ELMER AMBROSE SPERRY (R)(7) (See Engineers and Inventors)

PILGRIMS --- RICHARD SPERRY SR. (R)(1) was the earliest and original Sperry in North America. He was born 16 February 1606, the sixth and last child of John and Mary Sperry in the Thurleigh Parish of Bedfordshire, England. He died at New Haven CT some time after signing his will on the 18th of April 1693. He was among the original and early settlers of New Haven CT, being there in 1638 and first mentioned in New Haven history the 4th of January 1643 --- "Fined for having a defect in his gun cock." He came to New Haven CT as a Gardener or Farmer for Deputy Governor Stephen Goodyear, who was an agent for the Earl of Warwick. At New Haven he met and married Dennis-----? She died in 1707. By Dennis he had the following children: (1) JOHN, born 9 January 1649; (2) MARY, born 4 March 1650; (3) RICHARD Jr., born 20 January 1652; (4) ESTHER or HESTER, born 16 September 1654; (5) NATHANIEL, born 13 August 1656; (6) Thomas, born 13 July 1658; (7) A CHILD was born in 1661, but died; (8) EBENEZER, born ---- July 1663; (9) DANIEL, born and baptized in 1665; (10) JOSEPH, born 24 July 1668. It was on his farm that the cave was located which protected the Regicide Judges Goffe and Whalley from the Crown officers of the restored Monarchy in England. He supplied them with food and supplies while they hid there. It is possible that other Sperrys emigrated to America, but the vast majority of Sperrys in the United States and Canada relate to this Richard through his ten children.

PIONEERS --- WILLIAM SPERRY, CHARLES SPERRY, HARRISON SPERRY, ELIZABETH (BETSEY) SPERRY all (R)(6) and a little niece JOSEPHINE SPERRY (R)(7) were all members of the JOY SPERRY (R)(5) and MARY LAMONT family. They were all members of the Jedediah M. Grant Company of 1847 Pioneers to the Salt Lake Valley in Utah. On the way across the plains they had lost their mother Mary at Mt. Pisgah IA and a brother Aaron and their father Joy Sperry at Hyland Grove IA, a suburb of Omaha NB. Harrison remained in the Salt Lake Valley but the remainder of the family removed to Nephi UT. These people were pioneer farmers, ranchers, carpenters, millrights, builders, musicians, Indian fighters, and most of all settlers of the West. They were steady, stable, good members of their communities, their church, and their faith. Their descendants number in the hundreds and possibly in the thousands, mainly in western United States and Canada.

IRA SPERRY (R)(6) was born in Auburn NY 11 January 1802. After some years he removed to Barry, Pike Co. IL. He was induced to undertake the long overland journey to California, but he died on the way. Ira was first married to Miss Ann Case in 1823 by whom he had seventeen children. In IL he married (2) to a Miss Shawl. Many of the Sperrys of southern Idaho are descendants of this family.

JEREMIAH SPERRY (N)(6) was a son of Eldad and Lucenda Sperry (N)(5). He was born in Woodbridge CT in the year of 1802. He removed several times --- first to western New York State, later to southern Michigan, then into the Ohio River Valley, and on to Minnesota in the old "North West." He was a cooper by trade, a public servant to his neighbors, and Indian fighter by necessity, a builder in his communities, a pioneer, and a progenator of a large family. He married Jerusha Osborne about 1827. Eight children were born to this couple. This family has numerous descendants. Rodney Prestage Homer of Porterville CA published a book in 1969 on this particular line of Sperrys.

JOHN AUGUSTUS SPERRY (E)(5) was one of the first settlers of Macon Co. GA. He became a merchant and the first agent of the Southwestern Railway. He was married in 1837 to Mary Baxter McCallum. Eight children were born to this couple between 1837 and 1855. They made their home in Marshallville GA.

ROYCE BOISE (ASIEL) OATMAN, Early Pioneer in Arizona, married Mary Ann Sperry (R)(6). She was a daughter of Joy Sperry and Mary Lamont. Five blessed events occurred to this couple between 1834 and 1846. Their home and farm was in Whiteside Co. IL. Their brother-in-law Charles Sperry in his journal says that they refused to follow Brigham Young to Utah and that they became followers of Sidney Rigdon. This family was on their way to Southern California in 1852 when a band of Indians attacked and killed most of them on a site along the Gila River. A Master's Thesis at the University of California was based on their story. Their experience has appeared in the National Geographic Magazine and Arizona Highways. A book was published about them. Their story was told in a silent movie and appeared again in the TV serial "20 Mule Team." A town in Arizona is named after them.

POLITICIANS --- NEHEMIAH DAY SPERRY (N)(5) became United States Senator from Connecticut. He was born in Woodbridge CT in 1827, the son of Enoch and Mary Atlanta Sperry. He married (1) Harriet Eliza Sperry (E)(7) and by her had two children, the last adopted. He married (2) Minnie Barnes Newton. He was in the United States Senate in the period between 1850 and 1870. His main residence was in New Haven CT.

LEWIS PARSONS SPERRY (D)(6), United States Congressman from Connecticut, 1890 to 1894, was born at South Windsor CT on the 23rd of January 1844, the son of Daniel Gilbert Sperry and Harriet Frances Pelton. He became a graduate of Monson Academy in 1869 and Amherst College in 1873. He was admitted to the bar in 1878. He became a state legislator in 1876, Coroner in 1883, and Congressman from 1890 through 1894. He was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth Wood on the 7th of November 1878. Two children were born to this couple.

RELIGIOUS LEADERS --- Rev. ROBERT SAMUEL MACLAY married Henrietta Caroline Sperry (R)(6). Six children were born to this couple between the years 1851 and 1861. They became overseas missionaries in Hong Kong, China, and Yokohama, Japan. They later returned to Los Angeles CA.

Rev. CARPUS CLARK SPERRY (T)(6) was a pioneer churchman of Brownsville OR. He married Rachel Ann Fulton. Six children were born to this union between the years 1854 and 1867.

Rev. WALTER V. GRAY married Louise Abbie Sperry (E)(7). Two children were born to this couple. Their Church Service was in, and they lived in, Waterford CT in the 1880's and 1890's.

CHARLES SPERRY (R)(7) became a Pioneer Bishop, Stake Leader, and Patriarch at Nephi, Juab Co. UT in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He was born 30 June 1829 at Mecca, Trumbull Co. OH, a son of Joy and Mary Lamont Sperry. He married Emily Louise Miller 21 February 1848, which was the second marriage performed in the Salt Lake Valley UT. He married (2) Alena Margaretta Terkelson. He became the father of eleven children. (See Pioneers)

Patriarch RULON JAMES SPERRY (R)(9), son of William Arthur Sperry (R)(8) and Anna Zurviah Eardley, was born at Salt Lake City UT 30 November 1893. He is a grandson of 1847 Pioneer to Salt Lake Valley Harrison Sperry Sr. He was educated in the Salt Lake City schools. He was on a mission for the Latter-day Saints Church in the Netherlands when World War I broke out and it wasn't until July 1919 that he was able to return home. He was employed in the Presiding Bishop's Office and Zion's Securities Corporation, where his duties brought him in close contact with Presidents of the Church Heber J. Grant, George Albert Smith, and David O. McKay. He was called and set apart as President of the Netherlands Mission in 1956. Returning, he was put to work in the Missionary Department of the L.D.S. Church. Rulon Sperry has been a Bishop, a Mission President, a Sealer in the Temple, and is now a Patriarch in the Salt Lake Hillside Stake. He married Lucy C. Gedge 17 June 1924; they have two children.

ROYALTY --- PRINCE LOUIS LEOPOLD JOSEPH-MARIE ANDRE PONIATOWSKI of the Polish Royalty married Elizabeth Helen Sperry (R)(7), daughter of Simon Willard Sperry (R)(6) and Caroline Elizabeth Barker who lived at times in Lisbon and Ogdensburg NY and Stockton CA. This couple had residences in Paris, France, and San Francisco CA. Three children, all boys, were born to these parents between 1895 and 1899.

THE SPERRY FAMILY --- ODDS AND ENDS

CITIES, TOWNS, and VILLAGES named after the SPERRY FAMILY.

- (1) SPERRYVILLE, RAPPAHANNOCK COUNTY, VIRGINIA (To Luray) --- Its population is around 500. The county's population is 5500. Its main industry is raising apples and Black Angus cattle. There are no Sperry families living there at present. Its most interesting historical event is that Pope's Army of the Northern Virginia Federals was organized here. No battles were fought here, but the organization effected here was an event en route to Shennandoah Valley in the Great Civil War.
- (2) SPERRY SPRINGS, SUSSEX COUNTY, NEW JERSEY (No pick up and delivery service to Hopatcong) --- Information on this town was requested in a letter --- No answer was received.
- (3) SPERRY, ADAIR COUNTY, MISSOURI (P.O. Kirksville) --- Information requested --- No answer.
- (4) SPERRY, FRANKLIN COUNTY, WASHINGTON (P.O. Kahlotus) --- Information requested in a letter --- Letter was received, but no enlightening information.
- (5) SPERRY, DES MOINES COUNTY, IOWA --- Information requested --- No answer received.
- (6) SPERRY, TULSA COUNTY, OKLAHOMA --- Information requested --- No answer received.
- (7) SPERRY,-----, MINNESOTA --- Information noted that this place existed is found in the 8th Generation of Richard Sperry's Descendants.

The "SPERRY FLOUR COMPANY" according to our information was organized on the West Coast and later became an integral part of the greater "General Foods Corporation." This company was in all probability put together by the family of Businessman and Banker, Alfred Williard Sperry.

The "SPERRY ELECTRIC" and the "SPERRY AVIATION CORPORATION" originally organized by the Inventor ELMER AMBROSE SPERRY and his son of the same name have expanded and developed into a number of companies serving the public according to the needs they fulfill --- SPERRY-VICKERS INC., SPERRY-RAND INC., SPERRY-UNIVAC INC., etc. Their motto: "Making Machines do more, So Man can do more." further explains and emphasizes why I say the Sperry Family is a catalyzer family. They are people who want to and practice helping people solve their many various and sundry problems. It was the Saviour who said: "But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant." (Matthew 23:11) The Sperry Family is a Great Family.

THEODORE M. BURTON --- An Assistant Apostle for many years and now a member of the First Quorum of Seventy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints married MINNIE PREECE, a granddaughter of Patriarch Harrison Sperry, 1847 Pioneer to Utah. We thought of placing this under 'Sperrys of Distinction and Note' under Religious Leaders; however, after further thought, we concluded it would be more appropriate to put this under ODDS AND ENDS. --- While both are close to the Sperry Family, the Sperry name does not appear in their descendants.

WILLIAM A. SPERRY ( ) ( ) was born September 9, 1837, in New York State. He removed to Wisconsin with his parents when he was a small child and was reared and educated there. In the Spring of 1863, he went to California, locating in Sierra County. There he engaged himself in Mining. On July 16, 1869, Mr. Sperry married Anna McFarland and they became the parents of three children: (1) Nettie M., (2) Nellie M., and (3) Lillie. I have been unable to ascertain his lineage. The information about him is either faulty or not complete. Such information as I have of him came from the National Research Society, 508 Atlas Building, Washington, D.C.

COMMENT TO THE FAMILY ON SPERRY GENEALOGY

Amid the hustle and bustle of life, I reflect back to a pair of good parents, who in love and concern nursed a little tot like myself through a difficult life process filled with dangers, pitfalls, snares, and vicissitudes of such nature, depth, and magnitude as to be far out of my reach and poor powers to navigate alone. They gave me life and guided me with love and care until I was able to make it on my own. What a debt of gratitude I owe to these two lovable and concerned parents; similarly, what a deep debt of gratitude everyone owes to their parents.

In a similar vein, my parents must have had parents who loved and cared for them even as they cared for me, and so ad infinitum back to Grandparents, Great-Grandparents, etc. I love these fine people from whom I descend. I love that GREAT SPERRY FAMILY. And because I love them, I want their descendants, whoever they are, wherever they may be, and in whatever circumstances they find themselves, to know their good ancestors for their outstanding character, their accomplishments, and the fine personalities they developed. These wonderful people gave their children of their time and, most of all, the advantage of a spiritual environment in which to grow, good language and proper conduct, and a love of God and that which is uplifting. How else can you explain --- Senators, Congressmen, Inventors, Engineers, Bankers, Businessmen, Diplomats, Educators, Pioneers, Religious Leaders, Medical Doctors, Dentists, Men of the Military, Lawyers, and Enterprisers of all types in their ranks. The SPERRY FAMILY has been a catalyst family in the development of this Great Country. Members of this family have taken part in every Great Movement, War, or Development Process that has affected this Great United States since 1638.

FATHER RICHARD SPERRY, were he still alive and with us, and I do believe his great soul is alive somewhere in our massive universe, would, I am sure, say like the Saviour, "How often would I have gathered my children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings." (Matthew 23:37) The sons and daughters of Father Richard have wandered afar. They have migrated, traveled, and spread all over this United States and into Foreign Lands. It is my hope and I shall be satisfied if this book can, in a small way, say unto the DESCENDANTS OF FATHER RICHARD SPERRY, "Here is your identity, here are your roots, enter into my good Father's Tent, welcome once more to the Fold. We love you, we appreciate you, we want you to be near us." And like the Good Father, we say unto you: "Bring hither the fatted calf and kill it; and let us be merry---For this my son was dead and is alive once more. He who was lost is found again." (Luke 15:23-24)

This book, THAT GREAT SPERRY FAMILY, gives you the benefit of some thirty years of study and research in the Genealogy of the Sperry Family and related families. Great credit must be given to a New York lawyer named Skilton. He lived in New York City. His mother was a Sperry. He made it his hobby to collect Sperry Genealogy and their related families. This hobby was pursued until his untimely passing away around the year 1907. His great collection of genealogical records was placed in the Yale University Library at New Haven CT. It is known to us as the "Skilton Manuscript." These noble records were photographed and made available by the Utah Genealogical Society, due largely to the efforts of Dr. Sidney B. Sperry, my brother. The original call letters in the Utah Genealogical Society for this collection were F Conn 12 Parts 16 and 17 (film). It is a voluminous collection of Sperry Families and Families related by marriage to the Sperrys.

If you can believe with me that the assembling of birth dates, marriages, death dates, etc., is more than a hobby, that the collection of genealogical information about one's forefathers is more than a pastime, then it becomes possible to believe with me that the collection of genealogical facts is a duty with vital and essential religious overtones. For didn't the ancient Christian Apostle Paul say: "Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead?" (1 Corinthians 15:29) If you can accept the importance of the above and want to know more about the great significance of genealogy; if you want to be of greater service and love to your ancestors and those you love who have gone on before you, then I urge you to call in the "Mormon Missionaries" and learn what great work is being done in Mormon Temples for our beloved dead. If you will do this, then I make unto you a promise that you will have a greater understanding. A new and exciting world will open up to you. You will say to yourself, "What greater love and gratitude can we show to those who loved us so much."

Sincerely,

Harrison S. Sperry
